

New public safety building gets nod from selectmen

by Frank Amato

The Board of Selectmen unanimously approved the study and recommendations of the Permanent Building Committee (PBC) at its meeting Monday night.

The committee presented Phase I of the Space Needs Study and it is the recommendation of the PBC to construct a Public Safety building to house both the police and fire departments at the corner of Adelaide and Church streets. The project has been estimated by the consultants to cost 5 million dollars.

When the Public Safety building is finished it is recommended to demolish the old police station and move the Public Buildings Department presently located at the Whitefield School site into the old fire station.

The PBC had numerous meetings with school officials and the consultant. The one option that the school department wanted was a new High School. This project needed a 30 acre parcel of land. The committee looked at various sites and eliminated different sites because of wetlands and problematic areas of concern. The last site available was the Town Forest site at Ballardvale st. After meeting with safety officer and traffic counts taken on Ballardvale street, it was voted by the PBC to eliminate the Town Forest which ended the High School option.

The School Committee then voted to go with a 6-8 middle school. They felt it was the best educational option to serve the needs of all the middle and elementary students. They said they could only support the 6-8 option at this time.

After numerous discussions with members of the School Committee. The PBC is recommending for Phase I of the Space Needs Study that the Town construct a 150,000 sq. ft. 6-8 middle school to be located by the West Intermediate School. The consultant estimated that this project would cost 23.4 million dollars.

Daniel E. Woodbury, of Central street wrote to the Board stating his objection to the proposed Safety Building. he states "I do believe that the current location where the fire station is located meets all of the fire department's location concerns. As for the police facility, I believe that a renovated and enlarged to code Swain school location would meet all of the requirements for space needs and provide a central location for the police department."

About 40-50 parents showed concern about the manner in which the two proposed projects would be presented to the voters. The gist of the groups concern was to urge the Board of Selectmen to present both projects to the voters as a package.

Town Manager Michael Cairra pointed out to the group that "There are people who feel that they are entitled to a choice."

Selectman Michael McCoy offered support for the school "The time is now. We need to pull our resources together and get this done."

Cairra estimates that the Selectmen will vote on ballot wording within 3 meetings.

The cost of the projects would be by a 10 year bond. Cost to the taxpayer would be $14.71 per $10,000 of property value in the first year and reduce each year for the duration of the debt.

If approved by vote, it would then go to the Finance Committee and then be voted on at Town Meeting.

Dealing with domestic violence

by Frank Amato

The Wilmington police department responded to 221 domestic violence calls this year.

In 1994, Massachusetts hotlines handled over 116,000 calls for emergency assistance. More than 52,000 restraining orders were issued statewide in 1994. 1 out of every 2 women will be involved in a violent relationship in their lifetime. 50 percent of all homeless women and children are fleeing from domestic violence. In the U.S. 32 percent of women murdered in 1992 were murdered by a husband or boyfriend.

Wilmington is not free from these startling figures.

What is domestic abuse? Abuse can be emotional, physical, or sexual. Physical attack is one sign. Here are others:

Your partner.....

Won't let you leave the house or spend time with friends and family.

Constantly criticizes you, tells you that you're worthless.

Makes you fearful that you will do or say something "wrong".

Makes you believe that it's your fault.

Is jealous, and accuses you of being unfaithful.

Damages your possessions or injures your pets.

Threatens to take custody and/or not allow you to see your children.

You may be in an abusive relationship. If any of these signs sound familiar.

Domestic violence is a crime and there are laws and programs to help protect you and your children.

The Wilmington Family Counseling Service is an avid supporter in helping domestic violence situations.

The counseling service along with the town nurse, and the police department are trying to assist people in domestic violence situations by the distribution of pocket sized cards with telephone numbers to provide victims with access to emergency services (a copy is reproduced in the Town Crier on pages 11 & 12).

Copies may be obtained at the Library, Police station, Doctors and Dentists offices, Town Hall, and the Town Crier.

The card, produced by CHNA (Community Health Network Area) and then refined for more local use by means of a sticker donated by Frank Sullivan of Screenprint Dow to provide more appropriate local telephone numbers.

Dr. Carol Golub, Director of Wilmington Family Counseling Service said "We are available to help counsel anyone in this situation, and ability to pay should not concern anyone."

Anyone who suspects that they may be a victim of domestic violence is urged to contact any of the telephone numbers on the handout, the town nurse, Wilmington Family Counseling Service or the police. As a reminder, anyone may contact these resources in confidence.

Adolescent hepatitis vaccination

An adolescent hepatitis vaccination series will be offered to Wilmington High School seniors and 12th graders attending private schools, January 30 and 31; February 26 and 27 and July 30.

The three dose series will be administered for a total of $30 and is payable by check with a deadline of Friday, Jan. 24.

Those interested are urged to contact Ann Fitzgerald at the Wilmington Board of Health or Norma Rushton at the high school for more information.

Motorcycle facility postpones application

The hearing slated for Monday night with respect to Kelly's House of Harley Davidson for a Class I garage licence was indefinitely postponed.

Brian Kelly, of Kelly's House of Harley Davidson had applied for a license to open a Harley Davidson dealership at 277 Main st. The building currently houses President Subaru.

The Board of Selectmen received a letter from Stuart M. Van Tine, of Burns & Levinson representing Kelly's said "unfortunately, we are not in a position to go forward with the hearing now scheduled for Monday evening January 13, 1997. We therefore request that the hearing be taken off the agenda, indefinitely, without prejudice."

Kelly's request was granted by the Board of Selectmen unanimously.

Former Tewksbury man guilty in Galante bombing

by Frank Amato

Andrew J. Hammond III, 21, Salem, N.H. Formerly of Tewksbury was found guilty of being an accessory before the fact in the Jennifer Galante bombing case.

Hammond was charged with accessory before the fact to throwing an explosive device at a person or property and accessory before the fact to malicious explosion in connection with the April 1994 incident in which Jennifer Galante lost part of right hand when three other individuals drove to her home and one of them threw an explosive device through the window of her North Woburn home.

Galante picked up the device which had been attached to a rock and attempted to throw it out of the house. Before she could throw it, it exploded, causing her to lose her index finger, parts of her middle finger and thumb, and most of the mobility in her other two fingers.

Prosecutors allege that the attack was instigated by Hammond, who did not get along with Galante and was angry because she reported;u told her friend, Jennifer Gibbons (Hammond's girlfriend), that she didn't like him and didn't think Gibbons should go out with him.

Two of the other individuals in the case, Leonard Pearlstein and Jeffrey McMillan pleaded guilty to related charges in 1995; a third individual, Mark Perry, a juvenile at the time, agreed to plead guilty to lesser charges without jail time in return for his testimony.

Hammond, Pearlstein and McMillan are all natives of Tewksbury. Only Pearlstein still lived in Tewksbury at the time of the incident.

Hammond did not testify. In fact, the defense called no witnesses of its own and rested right after the prosecution finished its case. Hammond's attorney, George Murphy said he plans to appeal, but would not elaborate.

The Galante family expressed relief and satisfaction that the last remaining defendant in the case, the instigator, was convicted. Pearlstein, and McMillan are both currently serving prison terms.

Hammond's mother collapsed in tears in the hallway outside the courtroom after hearing the jury's verdict.

Hammond remains free on bail until his sentencing February 7th.

Extended day did good deeds

Joining in the spirit of giving, students in the after school program at the Abundant Life Christian School in Wilmington joined their teacher Marsha Hancock in busily working on craft projects to aid the Salvation Army in assisting families in need at Christmas time.

Students stamped and embossed brown paper bags with beautiful Christmas designs for gifts to be packaged in. A local Bible study group collected sample size personal care items to place in the care packages. Salvation Army representative, Faye Hancock, said to put things in the packages to show those in need that they are loved - to make them feel special.

Families in the school were also invited to participate in the Angel Tree program. A Christmas tree decorates the reception area of the school and hanging on this tree were tags from the Salvation Army. Each tag listed the name of a needy child and items that he or she would like for Christmas. Families who chose to participate in this program, purchased the gifts and returned them to Mrs. Hancock and her students whose job was to deliver the gifts to the Salvation Army in time for distribution for Christmas.

WHS partnership with Burger King

Joseph Patuleia, principal of Wilmington High School, has announced the inception of a program to recognize student achievement. Each month, the faculty will select students who have demonstrated outstanding and desirable characteristics, and whom the teachers feel are deserving of recognition.

Students who are nominated in the various academic subjects will not necessarily be those who have the highest academic grade point average. The intent of the program is to recognize students who's contributions are significant toward the overall improvement of the academic climate at Wilmington High School.

The areas in which students will be recognized are art, business, English, family and consumer science, health, mathematics, music, physical education, social studies, science, technology education, world languages and an administration/ guidance award.

John Lynch from the local band Rivendell, was keeping the beat at the Horseshoe Cafe last Thursday night. This was their debut performance featuring three decades of classic rock. Justin Piper, John Lynch, and Ryan Lewis have been playing together for two and a half months and were able to put on a show for three hours and play every song as if it was their own. ### TAX BREAKS IN NEW LAWS

No one knows yet what the new Congress will do to the tax laws, but the old Congress passed some welcome tax breaks last fall. Here's a sampling:

Tax-free employer-paid tuition allowances have been reinstated, retroactively to the end of 1994. Until May 31 of this year, employees again may exclude up to $5,250 of educational assistance payments, though the benefit no longer applies to graduate courses beginning after June 30, 1996. Anyone who paid taxes on such payments should get a revised W-2 from the boss and file an amended return.

Medical Savings Accounts—with tax-deductible contributions—are available for those with high-deductible medical insurance plans. And long-term-care premiums can be deducted as a medical expense.

Excess distributions from certain retirement plans—over $155,000 in one year or a lump sum of more than $775,000—will escape the 15-percent excise tax for 1997, '98 and '99.

Are there more tax changes that can benefit you?

Meehan's bill would cut welfare to inmates

U.S. Rep. Marty Meehan (D-Lowell) filed legislation on the first day of the 105th Congress, which would deny Social Security benefits to individuals who have been committed to a public institution as a result of a criminal conviction for a sex offense.

In Mass., a number of serious sex offenders, who are civilly committed at the Mass. Treatment Center at Bridgewater, are collecting more than $10,000 a month in Social Security benefits.

"It is an outrage that serious sex offenders are receiving monthly checks from the federal government," Meehan said. "As a former prosecutor, I witnessed first hand the devastation that these individuals left in their wake."

Under current law, Social Security benefits are denied to individuals who are confined in a jail, prison or other penal institution; individuals who are found guilty but insane; individuals who are found guilty by reason of insanity; and, to individuals who are found incompetent to stand trial due to a mental illness or defect. The individuals at the Mass. Treatment Center, and at similar facilities, do not, technically, fall into any of the above categories.

"The intent of Congress is clearly to deny serious criminals, like those at Bridgewater, Social Security benefits," Meehan said. "Closing this loophole in the law is a long overdue action."

Meehan's legislation will now be referred to the U.S. House Ways and Means Committee where he expects the bill to receive bi-partisan support. Congressman Meehan hopes to attach his bill to the first piece of tax legislation that moves through the Congress this year.

Meehan, a former First Assistant District Attorney for Middlesex County, was recently appointed to the Judiciary Committee.

One of the myriad of places Kim visited was the Great Wall of China.

Letters to the editor

Many out there are not voters

Dear Larz:

As the New Year begins, I and others look forward to what will hopefully be a decisive and exciting time for our town. The prospect of solving longstanding problems has many of us optimistic about the future of Wilmington's desirability as a family oriented town.

However, in discussing various issues with friends, neighbors and many newcomers to our town, I am surprised to learn that many residents are not registered to vote.

Apparently, registering to vote in 1997 could not be simpler. The following options are easily available.

a. Mail-in: Just call the town clerk at 658-2030 for a mail-in registration.

b. Walk-in: Visit Town Hall between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. weekdays for direct on the spot sign-up. The Town Clerk's office will be open until 8:30 on March 30. Forms for mail-in registration are also readily available at the library and the post office.

Now that we are registered, the League of Women Voters will be meeting to discuss the important issues being addressed in our next election. Call Martha Stevenson at 658-5488 for more information.

Show your concern for the future of Wilmington by being a registered, informed voter.

Sincerely,

Theresa Manganelli

Enjoy the birds

Dear Larz:

I would like to take this opportunity to let you know how much my husband and I have been enjoying your new column, Backyard Birding. We have always enjoyed the various birds and animals that we see in our own backyard over the past 35 years and have often wondered if others in the town were doing the same. Mr. Wiberg's column keeps us in touch with the wide variety of wildlife found in this area.

Sincerely yours
Marilyn J. Chalifour

Enjoyed article on Bari

Dear Larz:

Your articles about your Merchant Marine experiences during World War II are always read with great curiosity. Your January 1, 1997 piece on the disaster at Bari was most interesting.

All told, over 1,000 people died; 17 ships were sunk and another eight vessels were damaged during the bombing. One reason so few people know of the debacle is that US government security preferred to let people think the 30 German aircraft dropped the bombs which contained the poison gas! The truth about the contents of SS John Harvey's cargo was not made public until many years later. Since no major US warships were lost in the disaster, the merchant losses would not have made headlines when such losses were so common (168,524 tons in December 1943 alone).

Mustard gas is a nasty, oily substance. When it makes contact with skin or is inhaled into the lungs, it begins to burn through the flesh. Many victims at Bari died in agony. General Jimmy Doolittle was in Bari at the time.

The British raid on Taranto took place 11 November 1940. Swordfish planes flew from the carrier HMS Illustrious and torpedoed the Italian battleships Cavour and Littorio. A second attack sunk the battleship Duilio. Later that night, British cruisers and destroyers sunk four Italian merchant ships in the Strait of Taranto. The British lost two planes, while the Italians lost half their battleships in this crippling blow - copied by the Japanese at Pearl Harbor less than 13 months later.

Cavour sunk, but was refloated and towed to Trieste for repairs at the end of 1941; she never rejoined the fleet. Littorio was back in service four months later.

The name of the ship you commanded during your visit to Bari caught my eye as I recently came across it for the first time in a listing of scrapped ships. The only data provided is: John Drake Sloat (#122) was built by California at Los Angeles in 1943; she was scrapped in September 1960.

Monday we celebrate a great man

Dear Larz:

A birthday event which marks a turning point in history. So that all the Lords children may be free. The truth shall ring throughout the land.

His protests brought dignity and nobleness to his oppressed people, as well as their oppressors.

Unbeknownst to many, he increased his intelligence by studying every day, and graduated valedictorian in his class at Crozer Theological Seminary. He then went on to receive a Ph.D. in Theology at Boston University, 1955.

In 1959 he traveled to India, to study Gandhi's techniques of non-violent protest. For successful non-violent resistance to oppression, he was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1964, which got the message across that we are all equal human beings.

"I have a dream, that someday all God's children shall be free." We have a nicer world today, and we are all freer from tyranny because of Martin Luther King.

Respectfully,
John N. Maguire III
Myrtle Beach, SC

Thanks for the toys

Dear Larz:

The Wilmington Firefighters Union Local 1370 would like to thank everyone who contributed to this year's Toys for Tots Program.

Through our combined efforts we were able to meet the needs of 94 children in Wilmington. Special thanks to Mark Lopez of Universe Construction for once again organizing a donation totaling several thousand dollars from his company and subcontractors.

Thanks again

Letters to the editor

Thanks for the boost

Dear Larz:

On behalf of the Wilmington Boosters Association I would like to express a sincere thank you to Demoulas Market, Uncle Micky's, Wilmington Kiwanis, Dunkin Donuts (Lucci's Plaza), Rocco's Restaurant and Michelle's Ice Cream for their assistance in contributing to the success of our concession stand during the recently concluded high school football season.

I would also like to thank the Wilmington High School (WHS) Football team, the band and the cheerleaders for their successful season as well as the fans for taking their appetites to the games.

A personal note of thanks is extended to those Booster volunteers who willingly donated their Saturday afternoons for the success of the program.

The monies raised from the concession stand sales help to provide scholarships and other awards to graduating WHS athletes.

The Boosters Association will sponsor its annual scholarship dance Saturday, January 25 at the K of C Hall. This popular event will feature a Chinese dinner, dancing and raffles. Ticket information can be obtained by calling 657-6457.

Once again, thank you on behalf of the Association and the student athletes.

Very truly yours,
David Carroll, President
Wilmington Boosters Association

Thanks for the ice

Dear Larz:

On behalf of the many participants in Wilmington Youth Hockey, the Board of Directors would like to thank the following companies for sponsoring Youth Hockey Teams here in Wilmington for the 1996-97 season:

Wilmington Arena Authority, Peterson & Peterson Attorneys, Osco Drug, Banda & Banda Attorneys, Electric Supply Center, Dunkin Donuts, Shea Concrete, Casa di Fiore, Wilmington Wiring, Lynette's Limos, Leavitt/Miceli Insurance, Firestone Tire and Welch Construction.

We would also like to thank A&S Towing and Woburn District Court for making cash donations. The generous support of these local businesses helps Wilmington Youth Hockey provide the children of Wilmington a quality environment in which to learn and participate in the game of ice hockey. Our heartfelt thanks to all who help this organization.

Sincerely,
Wilmington Youth Hockey
Board of Directors

Kimberly White's education at sea

by Capt. Larz Neilson

Kimberly White of Wilmington is a young lady who has had a part of her education at sea, on a large cruise ship. It started last September, on a ship 600 feet long, designed to carry passengers.

The Universe Explorer, constructed in the United States, was, in a way, a surprise to Kim, last May. Six months earlier she had first heard of the ship, and the offer of an Education at Sea. The crew was largely Philippino, and the captain was born in Germany.

The young lady had already flown to Europe twice; once to Italy (Rome, Naples, Pompeii and Capri), and once to England, where she toured London and Bath. She had received a brochure telling of the possibilities of a cruise around the world while continuing her studies.

The price was between $12 and $14 thousand. Financial aid was possible. The classes would be on the ship. Kim felt the idea was worth investigating. She had been attending Fisher College in Boston, and she filled out an application. It took some months, and the visa etc was only a part of the problem.

Four hundred and twenty-four students from 46 states and six countries succeeded in being named to the voyage. It was to start in Vancouver, British Columbia, on the 14th of September.

The first part of her journey was by air. She flew from Boston to Los Angeles and then northward to Vancouver BC. To her the Universe Explorer was a huge vessel loaded up with stores and ready to go. The students included persons from Canada, Columbia, Japan, Venezuela and the United States, all speaking English. The ship was flying the flag of Panama.

They left Vancouver at 1:30 a.m. on the 14th of September. After 13 days they arrived at the Japanese port of Kobe, where a six day visit was scheduled. Then it was on to Shanghai, China. Every student had to attend classes every day while the Universe Explorer was at sea.

Three days after leaving Kobe the ship was at Shanghai, China. It was early in October. There was an opportunity to visit the Great Wall of China.

To Kim it was almost unbelievable. The wall was well constructed, and many centuries old. It was over 1700 miles long and goes up and down over the mountains and valleys of China. It is an unbelievable sight. Half a day was spent in looking at the Great Wall, still in fine condition.

Four days were spent in Hong Kong, six in Ho Chi Minh City, and then on to Madras, India. Many of the ports were crowded in one way or another, and Kim remembers Madras, India as being the most crowded place.

They went on, to Port Said, in Egypt, transiting the narrow part of the Suez Canal on the 14th of November. Then it was on to Haifa, Israel.

Israel is a country where many persons of many religious faiths meet each other, sometimes on friendly terms, and sometimes otherwise. To Kim this should not cause differences between the peoples. When she took a trip to see the Dead Sea she had an idea of bathing in those waters. That she did - and so did many of her companions!

She visited many shrines in Tel Aviv, Jerusalem and Bethlehem. In that latter city, of course, there was a trip to the Church of the Nativity.

Istanbul, Turkey was another place to see things the Blue Mosque was one of the leading attractions. Kim reports that there was no real problem because of religious differences.

And Suez in Egypt. Kim says she will always remember the trips to the Pyramids of that country. She had been sort of anticipating having to ride on camels. That did not happen. There were camels everywhere, but the passengers rode in buses. No trying to ride on a camel's hump!

There was a four day visit to the Piraeus in Greece, which was thoroughly enjoyed. Then it was on to Casablanca, facing the Atlantic Ocean in Morocco. Four days were spent, none of them worrying about the events of World War II. At 11 p.m. they took their departure for the U.S.A.

Ten days later the Universe Explorer arrived at Fort Lauderdale in Florida. It wasn't a cruise all the way around the world, but, says Kim, it was a lovely one!

The 1993 graduate of Wilmington High School, now a senior geography major at Salem State College reports that it was also nice to be home again, with her parents on Suncrest Avenue!

Wilmington library notes

Board books

According to Sharon Ruetenik, "babies need books too." The sturdy colorful "board book" is specially designed for little hands and is the perfect introduction to the world of reading for a very young child. The Children's Department has recently added some new titles to its collection of board books. The Start-the Day series by Harrier Zielert depicts Little Bunny engaging in many daily activities familiar to toddlers. Bryan Barton's book on tools rendered in sparse, bold colors is a fine introduction to this subject. Beatrix Potter's many characters are introduced in Happy Families. Everyday words are introduced in I Can Say Blanket. In Wiggly Pig Likes Bananas, Mike Inkpen challenges toddlers to choose favorite foods and pastimes.

Baking soda

Because of its many uses, baking soda (sody sallyratus) was once a staple of mountain living. It could be used for putting out fires, curing indigestion and cleaning teeth. In Sody Sallyratus, an old woman runs out of this useful substance just when her family and her very verbal pet squirrel are most hungry for biscuits. Teri Sloot's retelling of this Appalachian folk tale describes each family member's encounter with a grouchy ravenous bear. The biscuits only get baked when the squirrel outwits the bear. The recipe for the old woman's baking soda biscuits follows the text. For more ideas on how to use baking soda, check out Vicky Lansky's book Baking Soda: Over 500 Fabulous Fun and Frugal Uses You've Never Thought Of which is located in the adult collection.

WCTV reading corner

Ruth Kennedy, Director of WCTV, reports that the program "Reading Corner" is looking for an audience. Joy Brown, a Wilmington resident, presents a 30 minute program for three to five-year-olds where she brings to life stories and features easy craft ideas to try at home. Parents may take their children to WCTV studio at 10:20 AM on Monday, January 27. Reading Corner begins at 10:30 A.M. Please call Ruth Kennedy at 657-4066 to register for Reading Corner. Your child will enjoy participating in the program and later seeing it on your local cable TV.

Income tax forms

Massachusetts income tax forms are available at the library. According to the IRS, the standard federal income tax* forms, instructions and the reproducible book of forms should be available at the library by the end of January. The library has two copies of J.K. Lasser's Your Income Tax 1997 edition. One copy is located in the reference collection and the other is available for one week loan.

Local band debuts

By: Erik Neilson

Last Thursday evening at the Horseshoe Cafe in North Reading, Rivendell filled the atmosphere with covers from three decades of classic rock. Justin Piper on guitar, vocals, John Lynch on drums, vocals, and Ryan Lewis on bass, vocals played various tunes from Beatles, Led Zeppelin, Jimmi Hendrix, Aerosmith, Chili Peppers, Stoned Temple Pilots, Lenny Kravits, and a few originals.

Although they have only played together for about two and a half months, Rivendell were able to put on a show for three hours and play every song like it was their own. Their debut performance proved to be an excellent show and predicts more excellent performances upcoming.

Rivendell is putting out a demo tape in early spring. You can read the reviews about this demo in the next issue of "Sound Check Magazine." For information on any upcoming shows or how to obtain a copy of their demo, call John at 657-8629, or Justin at (617) 944-5095.

"Penny Wars" at the Tech

Members of the Student Council and the school chapter Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) at Shawshheen Tech engaged their classmates in a special competition during the last two weeks of school before the holiday recess. The four classes entered "Penny Wars," with dual goals of contributing to the Sun Santa fund and winning the competition. The prize was reduced admission to the winter school dance to be held in January or February.

For two weeks, students brought pennies into school to enter in class jars. On Thursday, December 19, Student Council Advisor Jim Byrnes and a student team used a counting machine to tally the totals. To find the winner of penny wars, all silver and dollar bills in the jars were deducted from the total.

Sophomores win

The enthusiastic and penny wise sophomores emerged as the winners, and will attend the next school dance for only $1 which is $4 less than the other classes. Sophomores collected $53.43, but had $20.40 deducted from the total because of other change and dollar bills. The penny wars raised $143.47; an additional $97.47 was collected for Sun Santa in containers in the cafeteria and the student run public restaurant, The Ram's Head. The total of $240.91 was delivered to the Sun Santa fund.

"The sophomores resoundingly won and used some strategy to do it," said Byrnes. "They waited until the last day to bring in most of their change." Although there were monitors watching as students put money into the respective class containers, part of the game was to put pennies in your own class container and silver in the competitor's. Even so, the sophomores also tallied the highest amount of money.

Although many VICA and Student Council members participated, Byrnes gives special credit to Amy Shibles and Krystina Mearles of Billerica and Justin Edwards and Kelly Dougherty of Tewksbury for their consistent help with such things as setting up the table and banner in the cafeteria, bringing out the jars each day during lunch, and manning tables.

A new tradition, the Penny Wars may be repeated next year, said VICA advisor Dennis Solomon, who said it looked like fun to try this year, and next year, well collect even more.

An older tradition of VICA members decorating the Senior Center in Billerica, continued this year with a group of students trimming the tree and the recreation room at the center.

Coats for Kids

The 39 branch stores of Anton's Cleaners joined efforts this winter with the Salvation Army, the Boston Bruins and Magic 106.7 to provide 3,723 coats to people in need.

All items, which were donated between October 1 and December 15, were cleaned courtesy of Anton's Cleaners before being distributed by the Salvation Army. Last year, more than 2,100 coats were collected through the Coats for Kids effort.

"I am very pleased that we not only reached but surpassed our goal of collecting 3,000 coats," said Charles A. Anton, vice president of Anton's Cleaners. "Our customers have made a tangible difference in how needy children and adults will cope with these winter months."

The Coats for Kids drive is part of the Salvation Army's annual Christmas Castle program that provides clothes, food and toys to needy families.

Anton's Cleaners services customers throughout suburban Boston and southern New Hampshire. The Wilmington store is located in Wilmington Plaza.

Obituaries

Marion D. Arigo worked at Turnstyle Dept. Store in Allston

Marion D. Arigo, 74, died unexpectedly Tuesday evening, January 7, 1997 at Saints Memorial Medical Center in Lowell. She was the wife of John Arigo, with whom she celebrated their 53rd wedding anniversary on April 18.

Born in Brighton, she was the daughter of the late John and Ella (Cochoran) Davis, and lived in Allston most of her life. She moved to Tewksbury in 1983, where she was a member of the Tewksbury United Methodist Church. Prior to retirement, she worked at the Turnstyle Department Store in Allston.

New brochure helps sinusitis sufferers

Each year, hundreds of thousands of work and school days are missed due to sinusitis - an inflammation of the nasal cavities, located above, behind and below the eyes that affects an estimated 30 million Americans. More than $1 billion is spent each year on over the counter medications to relieve symptoms, eventually resulting in 16 million doctor's office visits.

"It is easy to be confused about sinusitis, because it is essentially a complication of a cold, allergy or asthma that has been under treated, mistreated, or not treated at all," explains Michael Kaliner, M.D., Medical Director, Institute for Asthma & Allergy at Washington Hospital Center, Washington, DC.

A new brochure, What Everyone Needs to Know About Sinusitis, offers a comprehensive guide to the symptoms and treatment of sinusitis. For a free copy, write to: Syn-RX/KSI, PO Box 1515, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10101-1515.

Just prior to the holiday break, members of Tewksbury Citizens Actively Reinforcing Education (C.A.R.E.), Heath Brook, North Street and Trahan School Parent Advisory Councils (PACs) awarded Certificates of Community Service to Tewksbury High School students and staff for their voluntary participation in the town wide elementary school "Family Game Show Night," which was held back on November 22.

Wilmington High History Students attend conference

On Friday, January 10, 27 students from Ms. Russell's Advanced Placement U.S. History Classes attended the Phi Alpha Theta State History Conference at Framingham State College. In December, the students submitted research papers which were begun in late October. The papers were on a variety of topics provided by the college ranging from the Coconut Grove fire to the Ford Administration to the Reign of Napoleon.

At the conference, each student was assigned to a seminar corresponding to the topic of their paper. In addition, the students attended another seminar of their choosing. At both seminars, there was a lively exchange of ideas and an opportunity to meet with students from across Massachusetts.

The Conference was sponsored by Upsilon Alpha, Framingham

State College's chapter of Phi Alpha Theta, the International Honor Society in History. Over 500 students from 25 high schools across the Commonwealth participated in this honorable event.

Each student who attended the conference received a certificate of participation.

WHS students taking part include: Kristin Bruno, Joe Casey, Ben DeGennaro, Kristin Flynn, Paul

locally and two live out of state.

On hand for the festivities were five of her surviving children and their spouses; 26 grandchildren; 35 great-grandchildren; three great-great-grandchildren and a few close friends.

Help for anxiety sufferers

Individuals of all ages can suffer from anxiety. It can be experienced as an ongoing feeling of nervousness or being "jittery," or as an intense attack with accompanying feelings of panic and disorientation. The Behavioral Medicine Program at Boston Regional Medical Center will offer an anxiety/panic therapy group to assist people with these symptoms.

Group members will learn specific strategies for coping with anxiety and panic including relaxation techniques, self monitoring, and methods to alter negative, catastrophic thinking.

Participants will also gain support from others with similar problems.

The group will be led by Robert L. Miller, Ph.D., coordinator of the Behavior Medicine Program and an instructor in psychology at Harvard Medical School.

The nine week group will meet Mondays from 5 to 6 p.m. when fully enrolled. Individual prepregroup interviews are now being conducted to determine eligibility. The group is covered by Medicaid and most insurance plans, including many HMOs. For more information or to register for the group call Dr. Miller at 617-979-7419.

TMHS basketball standout, Tim Boudreau broke John Hurley's season high basketball scoring record (889), with his total of 891 points, and the season was still going.

John, now in second place, was pictured as he stood to applaud the new record holder, Jim Meuse held down third spot with 883.

Frequent and lasting snow storms caused the DPW to overspend the snow and ice removal account.

Sam Dias and Darrel Favreau were pictured chasing a hockey puck around Long Pond while Bob Field and Kyle Favreau were busy clearing snow away.

Lynda Short of Country Club Drive was in England visiting her parents.

Lauren Terrazano of Barbara D. Lane was named to the dean's list at Boston University for the fall semester.

David O'Brien of Lloyd Road joined the staff of State Sen. Patricia McGovern. A lifetime resident of Tewksbury, David remarked that this was the perfect job for him. "I am very interested in politics and state government."

Town receives recycling grant money

The Town of Wilmington has received $8,580 as part of a state sponsored recycling grant provided to the North East Solid Waste Committee (NESWC). Wilmington's award is part of a larger $400,000 state grant to support recycling in NESWC communities.

NESWC Executive Director Steven M. Rothstein said, "These funds will help support Wilmington's recycling programs. Thanks to the assistance of State Senator Bruce E. Tarr and State Representatives Marianne W. Brenton and James R. Miceli, the state environmental agencies, and Wilmington officials, some of the costs of recycling will be offset as a result of this grant program."

Wilmington and other NESWC communities face a unique challenge concerning their desire to recycle and help the Commonwealth reach its goal of recycling 46 percent of municipal solid waste by the year 2000. As a result of a state sponsored 20 year contract with a waste to energy facility in North Andover, NESWC Communities are forced to pay for a certain amount of trash or Guaranteed Annual Tonnage (GAT). "Each ton that is recycled that takes a community below its GAT amount incurs a double cost - the actual cost of recycling and the cost of delivering a "phantom ton" to the North Andover facility. This costs NESWC communities millions of dollars annually," said Robert Moroney, Chairman of the NESWC Board of Directors.

The GAT Recycling Assistance Program is funded by the legislature from the Clean Environment Fund. This fund was created to use unclaimed bottle deposits to support recycling related programs. Added Rothstein, "NESWC appreciates this financial support from the Commonwealth to help Wilmington officials and residents increase recycling."

NESWC communities receiving grants include Andover, Arlington, Bedford, Belmont, Boxborough, Burlington, Carlisle, Dracut, Hamilton, Lexington, Lincoln, Manchester, North Andover, Tewksbury, Watertown, Wenham, Westford, Wilmington and Winchester.

ARE YOU PROTECTED?

by Edward H. Wilkens

FOILING BURGLARS

QUESTION: How can you discourage burglars from entering your home?

ANSWER: Keep your doors and windows locked when you're not there. Leave a few lights on when you go out in the evening. Turn on a radio or your television set at a low volume to suggest someone is there listening.

If you intend to hire someone for odd jobs, be sure you check references carefully. You don't want him "casing" your house while he's washing windows.

Never admit a stranger unless you're satisfied with his identification. If you're advertising something for sale, give your telephone number only. You don't want to come home and find the "for sale" item gone.

History comes to life in Wilmington classrooms

The Revolutionary Abigail Adams makes its Wilmington debut in three elementary schools February 11 and 12. The dramatic performance for all fifth graders is the core of an innovative professional development program for teachers. The Bright Star Learning CoOperative, a not-for-profit corporation, travels nationwide to offer its three phase program combining in service, professional theater, and performance learning and assessment.

The first component is a teacher workshop, in which the consultants will work with all fifth grade teachers from our three elementary schools. The second component is a highly interactive theater performance at each school, The Revolutionary Abigail Adams. In the final component, consultants work with the teachers in their classrooms as they connect the theatrical experience to classroom learning.

Textron systems is co-sponsoring the program with the school system and the three participating schools. Other contributors underwriting program costs include the School-Business Partnership, Winchester Hospital, C.J. McCarthy Insurance Agency and Financial Services, Wilmington/Tewksbury Elks, and the Rotary Club.

Call Lore Nielson, Curriculum Coordinator, Wilmington Public Schools, 694-6000 for more information.

Tewksbury rabies clinic

Tewksbury Dog Officer, Walter Collins has scheduled a rabies clinic for dogs and cats on Saturday, January 25, 1997, from 1 to 3 p.m. at the DPW Garage, 999 Whipple Road.

It is strongly recommended that all house cats be vaccinated. Moon S. Kim, DVM, will be the attending veterinarian. Dogs must be at least six months of age. All dogs must be on a leash. Cats must be in a cage, box or handheld and restrained by the owner.

The fee is $10 per dog or per cat. For the dog owners convenience, Elizabeth Carey, town clerk and staff will be on hand to issue the 1997 annual dog license.

If the clinic has to be canceled due to inclement weather the cancellation notice will be submitted to WLLH (1400) and WCAP (980) before noon on Saturday, January 25.

Shawsheen School Notes

by Joanne Waterhouse

The Shawsheen School is planning NetDay for March 1 and 2. On these days volunteer parents will wire the school classrooms to connect computers. Connecting the computers will allow the teachers to pass on the information from one computer to another. The school will also be connected to the outside WorldWide Web through a cable connected with Continental Cable. This is important to all of us so please, if you can, volunteer. If you wish to volunteer, please call Mr. Gorham.

Mr. Spark's class is in the middle of a bridge building project. They are looking for the person who can build the strongest bridge using only 100 popsicle sticks, glue and string. The tribe boards are almost finished. In fifth grade, Mrs. Maxey's room has been writing winter poetry and studying about the New England Colonies.

Miss Barry's first graders are all becoming great authors at the Shawsheen School. At the present time they are writing a winter book called "Footprints in the Snow." Rooms A3, A4, and A5 first grades will be making puppets to go along with one of their reading stories "Maria's Puppet." They are also learning about Body Systems in Health, Weather in Science and Families in Social Studies.

Mrs. Flaherty's third grade class will be concluding their month long unit on Owls. The children have done a written report and a project about the owl of their choice. In school the children will dissect owl pellets and see live owls during a visit from Drumlin Farms traveling Animal Ark.

See you next time!

Tewksbury kindergarten session change

The Tewksbury School Department has reminded parents that beginning January 22, kindergarten sessions will be switched. Students who have been attending morning session since September will now attend afternoons session. Conversely, students who have been attending afternoon session since September will now be attending morning session.

Parents are reminded that morning session students ride to school on General Bus Routes (with students grades one through five) and ride home at 11:30 a.m. on special kindergarten only buses. Afternoon session students ride to school on special kindergarten only buses, which start pickup at noon; then ride home on General Bus Routes.

Nutritional dinners to be featured by Ram's cooks

Culinary Arts students at Shawsheen Tech will prepare and serve an evening meal to the public on Wednesday, February 5 at 6 p.m. in the Ram's Head Restaurant at the school. This is the first in a series of "Nutritional Dinners" in 1997; students started the program with a series of four meals in 1996. All meals are complete and balanced, with everything from appetizer to dessert, but moderate in calories, fat and cholesterol.

The February 5 dinner will feature chicken marsala, tri colored rice pilaf and fat free raspberry whip for dessert; hors d'oeuvres will precede dinner. Tickets are $7 apiece; only 60 are available. To reserve your tickets, call culinary instructor Joe Williams at the school, 508-667-2111, ext. 124. Williams notes that students are participating in all aspects of this series, including menu planning, food preparation, and serving. This year, students scanned the Internet for recipes that met health guidelines of the American Heart Association. The chef-instructor began the program a year ago with student volunteers who expressed an interest in gaining more knowledge of healthy cuisine, a modern food trend.

We've finally landed

We're very pleased to announce the opening of our newest Saturn showroom. And we'd like to invite you in for a visit - to show you some of the ways we're trying to change the automobile business. It's in the way we design our cars. And how we build them. And most of all, how very differently we take care of our customers - more like how you might treat a new neighbor. (Which sort of makes sense, huh?)

Hope to see you soon.

WOMEN - Clip & Save • This information could save a life.

What is domestic abuse? Abuse can be emotional, physical or sexual. Physical attack is one sign. Here are others:

- Your partner...
- Won't let you leave the house or spend time with friends and family
  - Constantly criticizes you, tells you that you're worthless
  - Makes you fearful that you will do or say something "wrong"
  - Makes you believe that it's you're fault
  - Is jealous, and accuses you of being unfaithful
  - Damages your possessions, or injures your pets
  - Threatens to take custody and/or not allow you to see your children

You may be in an abusive relationship if any of these signs sound familiar. Domestic violence is a crime and there are laws and programs to help protect you and your children.

Wilmington senior topics

Shine counselor

Shine Counselor Barbara Hooper will be at the Senior Center Wed., Feb. 4 from 9 to 11 a.m. She reminds us starting Feb. 1-March 31 Open Enrollment will be held by Blue Cross/Blue Shield for those who wish to apply for one of Blue Cross Medex plans. At this time also is when one can upgrade their policy to include drug coverage. It is also the time for those who do not take too many medications and are enrolled in the larger plan Medex Gold but feel the cost is too much for them, should consider transferring to Medex bronze. This plan gives the same type of coverage, except prescriptions coverage. It is less costly then gold. Barbara will be at the center; check with her on changing your coverage. All other Medigap policies from other insurance companies have open enrollments at anytime during the year. For seniors who did not take Medicare B when they applied for Medicare at age 65, and now wish they had, call the Social Security office in Lowell. They have an open enrollment plan every year. At that time you can apply for Medicare B, without a heavy penalty.

MBTA passes

We have been receiving many calls on MBTA passes. MBTA has started taking requests for senior citizen 65 and over cards through the mail. To obtain an MBTA senior citizen pass card through the mail, one is required to send a 1" x 1" photograph of themselves. It can be colored or black and white. A copy of an id showing birthdate, that could be your drivers license, a passport, your senior citizen id card or birth certificate, along with 50 cents (no checks) to MBTA Senior and Access Pass Office, 10 Boylston Place, Boston, MA 02116. Allow three weeks for processing. If you would like a pass right away, you can get it by walking in at the same address, any day Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Questions will be answered by calling the MBTA Office at 617-222-5438.

Valentine dinner dance

The therapeutic social for February will be a Valentine dinner dance in the Tewksbury/Wilmington Elks Hall, Thursday evening, February 13. A chicken pie dinner with all the trimmings will be served at seven o'clock. Music for dinner and dancing will be provided. Sign up for this social will be on Friday, Jan. 17, starting at 10 a.m. A $2 non refundable deposit will be required when signing up to help defray the cost of the evening. Table numbers will also be assigned at that time.

Please do not ask to sign up for another unless it is your spouse. Only Wilmington seniors are allowed to attend our socials. If you have any problem please see the director

Programs and classes

Programs and classes for Thursday, January 16 the nurse will be at the center to administer diabetes tests starting at 1:30 p.m. With the holidays over and all the parties with so many goodies behind us, it would be wise to have a diabetes test to check the sugar level in our blood. Remember diabetes is a silent illness, our sugar level could be climbing unknown to us, with no warning.

Ann can take a simple blood test to detect a problem as it is starting. In most cases she would suggest you see your doctor. He would place you on a diet and an exercise program to bring it under control.

On Friday, January 17 exercise class is from 10 to 11 a.m.; bingo from 1 to 2:30 p.m.; Tuesday, January 21, nutrition class 9:30 weighins, class starting promptly at 10. This is another must class to start the new year off eating the proper foods to keep the body healthy. Jean Webster will help you to do this, it is a free class with friendly seniors to help each other to stay on a proper diet. Also on Tuesday the commissioner's meeting will be held starting at 1:30 p.m.

Wednesday, January 22, exercise class from 10 to 11 a.m.; craft class from 9 a.m. to noon; ceramic class, 9 a.m. to noon, podiatrist starting at 9 in the nurses room. Please call for appointments no later than the day before. Thurs., Jan. 23, sewing, knitting and crocheting class from 9 a.m. to noon; shop class from 9 a.m. to noon. Joe, the instructor has the whole area downstairs now that the ceramics class has moved up to the card room. He has many machines to work with and plenty of room to move around. He would like to work with seniors who would like to learn to make some nice wooden articles.

If you like to make a toy for your grandchild, Joe is the one who will teach you. If you attended the Senior Fair, you saw what I mean with all the lovely wooden toys Joe had on his table. He sold them all for a total of $540. After they were all sold he was asked by many if he could take orders. This is an excellent hobby for both men and women. We supply the wood, electricity and machines free and Joe teaches, also free. All you have to do is drop by the Center and enjoy yourself.

On Thursday the dance class is held from 1 to 2:30. The nurse will be in the nurses room to check blood pressures starting at 1:30 p.m. Friday, January 24, exercise class is from 10 to 11 a.m. and bingo from 1 to 2:30 p.m.

Wrestling team clean house(s) as they head to Vermont

by Jamie Pote

In what could possibly be called one of the greatest weeks ever for the Wilmington High School wrestling squad, it perhaps could get even better this weekend.

After coming off four victories this past week which pushes their overall record to 5-2 (they only had three wins last year), the team will spend this Saturday and Sunday in Mount Anthony High School in Vermont, the former gymnasium in which head coach Mike Pimental was an All-American in.

Perhaps, the team might not even bring a weight class champion home in this weekend's extremely tough tourney, but going against better competition and getting that experience should alone help this team out even more.

This past Friday, Wilmington beat Pentucket 42-34 to start off their excellent two-day bonanza. Winning their matches on that night were: Dan Bonnell, Billy Tate, Shawn Sullivan, Billy Harrison, Jamie Campbell, Sean Kerrigan, Mike O'Toole and Brian Shea. Harrison, Campbell and Kerrigan all won with pins.

On Saturday, Wilmington swept a quad meet that was held at Nashoba Tech of Westford with wins over Hamilton-Wenham, Nashoba Tech and Masconomet.

First up was H/W and the Cats beat them 46-27. Bonnell, Mike Shelley, Tate, Sullivan, Rob Torrani, Harrison, Kerrigan, O'Toole and Shea all won their respective matches. All but Tate and O'Toole pinned their opponents.

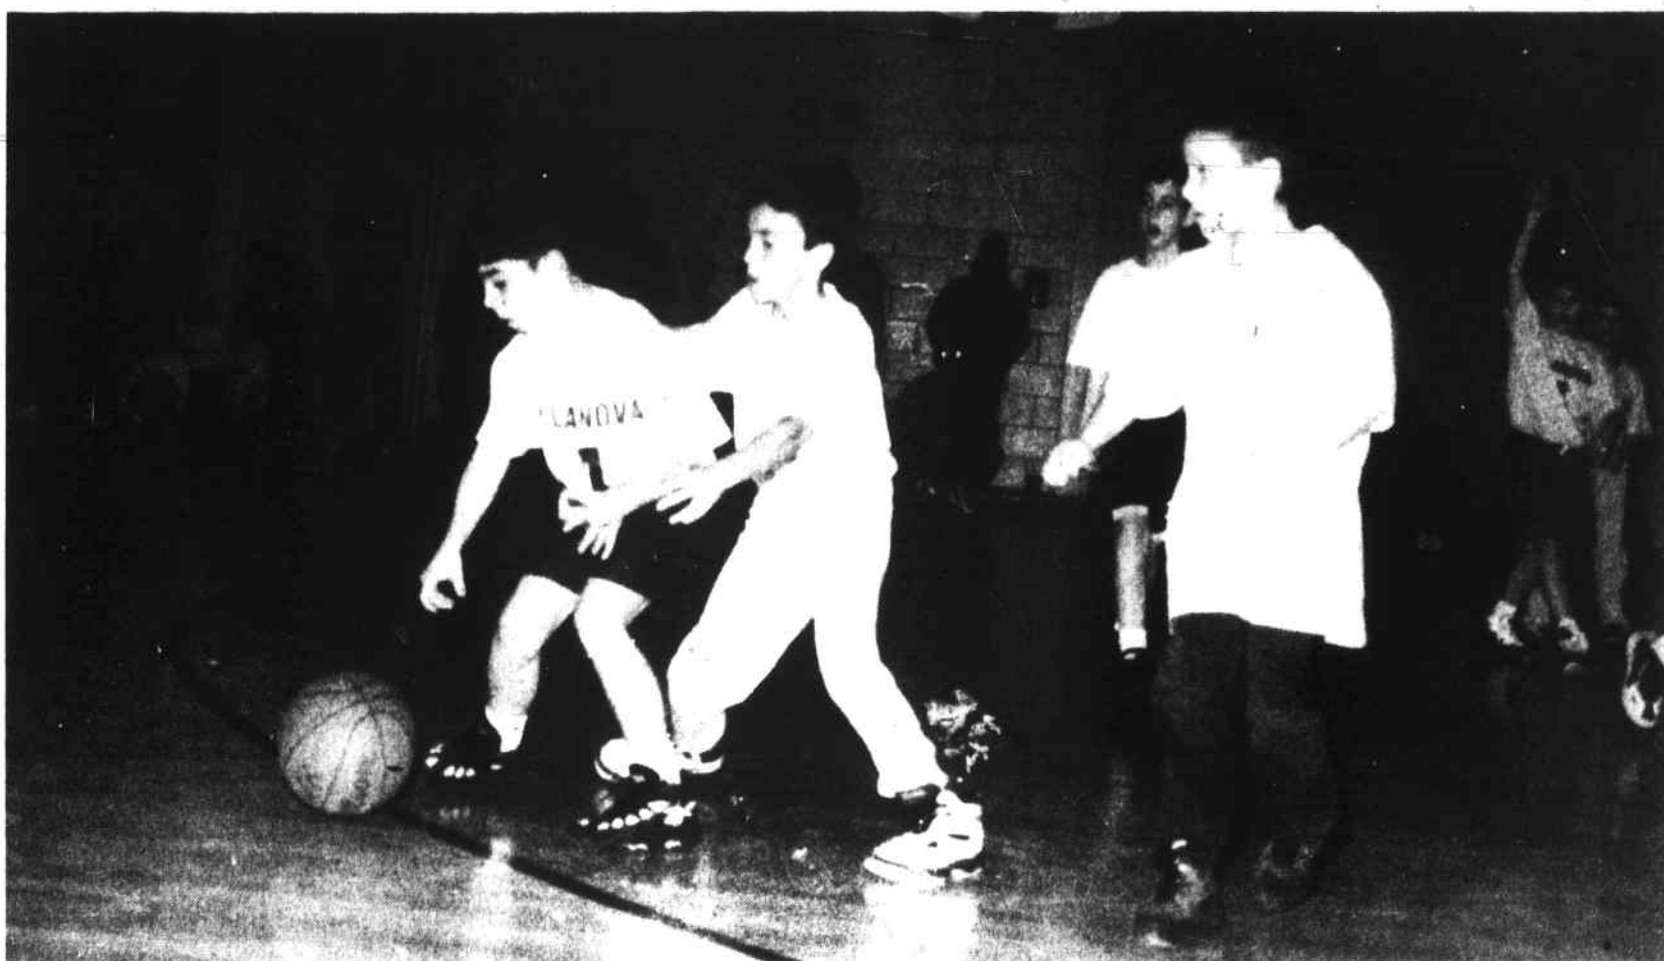

The second meet was against Nashoba Tech and the Cats easily took that one 48-12. Paul Cheney, Bonnell, Tom Cassella, Shelley, Tate, Sullivan, Harrison and Shea all won (all of them were pins) their matches.

Finally came Masco and once again Wilmington took them with ease, 60-13. Cassella, Tate, Shelley, Sullivan, Torrani, Harrison, Campbell, Kerrigan, O'Toole and Shea all won their matches.

So all in all, Wilmington had a very reproductive week as Tate, Sullivan, Harrison and Shea all won all four of their matches.

Oh yeah, Tate is also 18-0 and he hasn't been scored upon since the Wilmington Sons of Italy Tourney nearly a month ago. Wow!

The team leaves for Vermont on Saturday morning and will come back home on Sunday night. The tourney is one to remember as wrestling is taken very seriously up there - Mount Anthony has always had the reputation of having one of the better teams in the country, year after year.

Track teams sweep Amesbury

by Jamie Pote

The Wilmington High School boys and girls track team made it a complete sweep last week in their meet against Amesbury. The boys won 50-36 to improve their record to 2-1, while, the girls also won and their score was 45-37 for their first victory of the season.

There were many terrific performances by both squads. Starting with the boys team, Jeremy Rufo and Chris Kilburn highlighted the meet when the former took a first in the 1000 finishing at his personal best of 2:39.9 and the latter took first in the 600 which he ran for the first time and his time was 1:26.3.

P.J. Heffernan (5.7 seconds in the 50), Dan Sweet (37.9 seconds in the 300), Christian Ferraro (8.6 seconds in the hurdles), Keith McLaren (45.5" in the shotput) and the relay team of Rufo, Rory Ballou, Dan Sweet and Heffernan (4:03.13) all took home first place finishes too.

Also placing among the top three were: Ballou (third in 50); Brian McCarthy who has been a big help to the team and Jason Crescenzo (second and third in the 600); Andy Myers (third in the mile); Rob Houle and Jonathan Parker (second and third in the two mile); and finally, Mike Carr (second in the hurdles and third in the high jump) and Chris Raetano (third in the shot put).

Even though they didn't place, others who continue to improve are: Dave LeCesse, Randy Peach, Kenny Stokes, Paul Fugere, Nick Saporito, Rob Murphy and Greg Monteiro. Captain Mike Sweet injured his foot while running in the 300.

As for the girls team they earned their first victory of the season. Taking first places were: Sarah Lund (7.2 seconds in the 50); Tricia Kane (1:45.9 in the 600); Kathleen Haynes (mile); and Stephanie Sordillo (9.4 seconds in the hurdles).

Also placing were: Colleen Murphy (second in the 50); Lynn Hurley and Jessica Garbati (second and third in the 300); Robin Diorio (third in the 600); Kristen Bourinot (third in the 1000);

Stephanie Anderson who knocked off 1:48 off her previous time took a third in the mile; Cheryl LeCesse and Barbara Tate (second and third in the two mile); Lisa Southmayd and Christine Fowle (second and third in the hurdles); and Kristen Peach and Kristen Bruno (second and third in the shot put).

Also participating very well were Darlene Parker and Stacy Kendall.

Correction

by Jamie Pote

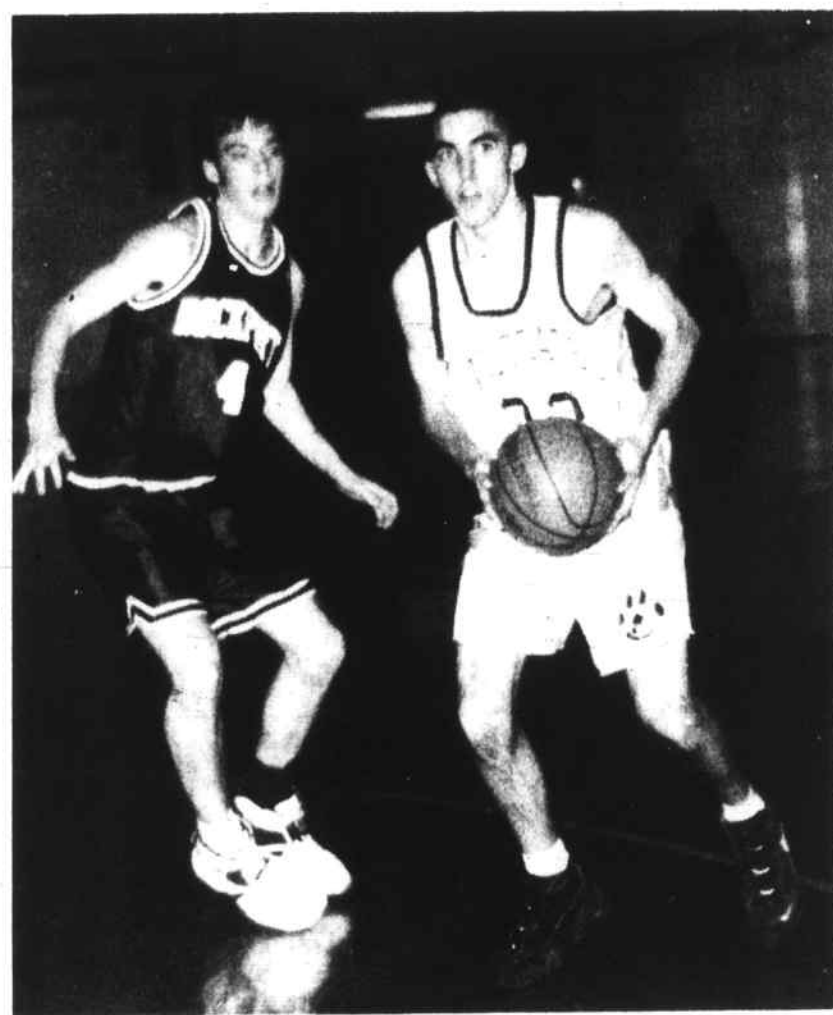

In last week's sports pages, there was a team picture of the Wilmington Squirt B youth hockey team.

The caption said the team was holding up its runners-up trophies, and it should have read that the team was holding up its first place trophies as they beat Tewksbury 3-2 in overtime of the second annual Tewksbury Holiday Youth Hockey Tournament.

The Town Crier apologizes if the misprint cause any inconveniences.

WHS Hockey squad enjoys two-win week

by Jamie Pote
After totally schellacking North Andover last Wednesday night, the Wilmington High School varsity ice hockey team made it four in a row with another win on Saturday against Amesbury. The Cats now stand atop the Cape Ann League at 4-0-1 in the league and 6-1-2 overall.

The Torpey brothers were the highlight of the North Andover clash as the Cats blew them away 9-0. Dennis scored a hat trick, while, Dan a freshman, scored his first varsity goal on a beautiful rush through several defenders.

Ryan Haubner, Justin Vallas, Danny Abbott, Lee Trimarchi and Brian Farkas all netted single goals, while, Brian Hermann led the way with three assists. Also adding assists were: T.J. Flynn (two), Ryan Haubner (two), Dennis Torpey, John Considine, Abbott, Farkas, Chuck Vallas and Kevin Carroll.

Goaltender Jason Dango stopped all six shots for his first shut out of the season. Jim McGonagle finished out the last five minutes but he didn't face a shot.

Wilmington led 2-0 after the first period and 4-0 after two, but they really broke it open in the third period with five goals. Trimarchi scored the last one and that came just 9 seconds after Farkas scored the eighth goal.

North Andover had just six shots throughout the entire game and all but two came from Eric Erb, a sophomore forward.

On Saturday, Wilmington beat a good Amesbury squad, 4-2. Dennis Torpey and Ryan Haubner (plus an assist) scored two goals each, while, Mike Berian and John Considine also contributed with single assists. Torpey now has 11 goals in just eight games. Goaltender Jason Dango made 19 saves for the win.

This week, Wilmington hosts North Reading Wednesday evening at Ristuccia Exposition Center at 7:20 and on Saturday they travel to Newburyport in a rematch of the Christmas Tourney final - the latter should be a very good game.

Behind top two lines, Tewksbury Hockey team takes Billerica

by Jamie Pote
With three straight victories, the Tewksbury Memorial High School varsity ice hockey team is now tied with Billerica for second place in the Large Division of the MVC-DCL. Chelmsford is in first as they are undefeated, and Tewksbury and Billerica are tied at 3-1 in the league. Tewksbury is now 6-2 overall and are riding a three game winning streak.

Tewksbury, who was beating Chelmsford 2-0 when they played them two weeks ago - but ended up losing 6-2, traveled to and beat a very good Billerica club, 4-2 this past Saturday night.

"That was a very big win for us," said head coach Bob Ware. "It was a team effort, but we won all of the individual battles. The kids played their hearts out and now with the win we will open a few eyes up and we also remain in the hunt."

Roger Tanguay, Nick Solis (plus two assists), Jim Davos (empty netter) and Dan Mahoney (game winner) all notched single goals in the win. Ware said he was pleased with the efforts he got from Tanguay, Joe Perna, Mahoney and Davos, but he was especially thrilled with the play he got from his second line.

"I have to give the second line a lot of credit. Josh Westaway, Anthony Labo and Derek Favreau all were very disciplined, they made little if any mistakes and they kept the flow going. That's two sophomores and a freshman - I give them a lot of credit," Ware said.

That trio formed when Jon Klerowski who was on the second line, broke his collarbone taking a hit in the Chelmsford game.

Before the big game against Billerica, Tewksbury's offense exploded the two previous games with a 6-2 win over Methuen and a 7-2 win over North Middlesex. Favreau, Labo, Paul Davoren, Tanguay, Perna and Solis are netted single goals in the win over Methuen. Solis paced the North Middlesex victory with a hat trick.

Tewksbury will play host to Acton-Boxboro this Saturday at the Janas Rink in Lowell at 6:00 before traveling to Central Catholic the following Wednesday.

"Acton-Boxboro might not be the same team they were two years ago, but you still have to respect them. All of our conference games are big - this will be another must win for us," Ware said.

Currently the first line of Tanguay, Solis and Perna with defensemen Davos and Mahoney are doing their share of leading this team. The five of them have combined for 27 goals and 38 assists for 65 points through 8 games. Wow!

Squirt B's sting Andover, 5-1

Tewksbury 5 Andover 1
The Redmen Squirt II Hockey team played a strong two way game. Ryan Walsh picked up an assist when he sent Ryan Sweeney who started things of whistling a nifty low shot past Andover's goalie.

Tewksbury held Andover off the score board through the first. Good goaltending by Steven Aldred and Frank Halley allowed just one goal.

Tewksbury notched two goals in the second when John Marazzi hit Walsh with a pinpoint pass and sent Sweeney in for his second. Ryan Walsh netted two quick goals within two minutes with assists going to Sweeney, Jenna Bristol, Joe Montblue and Geoffrey Luciano.

Midway through the third, Jared Leone set up John Marazzi from the point as the puck found its way to the back of the net. Great "D" by David Duffy kept the front of the net clear.

Tewksbury 5 N. Middlesex 1
Joe Montblue capped things off with two goals late in the third with assist to R. Sweeney and R. Walsh as the Redmen skated past N. Middlesex I team. Eric Belmonte, John Berkeley, Chris Kapust added plenty of pressure and backchecking. Other goal scoring came from Jared Leone who stuffed one home with assist to Eric Belmonte and Jenna Bristol.

Ryan Sweeney popped in two quick goals. Joe Broderick, Pat Fitzmaurice helped stop N.M. from getting into the Redmen zone by breaking plays up at the blue line. While J. Bristol played her second strong game on defense breaking up a four on one. Halley and Aldred played solidly between the pipes with several key saves.

What exactly is Curling? Is it a sport?

by Ed Larkin

Grab your stones, brooms, and head out to the Curling ice. The sport of kings and queens is going Olympic. In 1993, the game of Curling was officially adopted by the International Olympic Committee. The first Curling stone will go down ice during the 1998 Winter Olympics in Nagano, Japan.

Curling is often referred to as shuffleboard on ice. The sport calls for two four person teams who alternate sliding stones down a 146-foot sheet of ice. The team that places the most stones nearest the center after eight or ten innings wins. Each team receives 80 minutes of playing time for a ten-end game.

Ice is pebbled before the start of each match. The pebbling causes tiny ice chips to form on the playing surface as the stones ride over the ice. This is where the broom is used. The sweeping motion, through friction, slightly melts a path for the stone. Sweeping controls the stones' speed. The sweepers cannot begin sweeping until the stone is in motion. At no time are the sweepers to come in contact with the stone.

The equipment needed to play are curling stones, brooms, and a curling sheet. Curling stones are circular in shape. The maximum weight, including the handle, cannot exceed 44 pounds. The maximum circumference of the stone cannot exceed 36 inches and be no more than 4.5 inches. Brooms can be made of corn or nylon. The corn broom, being the traditional sweeping device, is still quite effective. Finally, the curling sheet is 146 feet long, with matching circles and scoring lines centered on either end of the playing surface.

These are the basic guidelines for the sport. As with any Olympic event, the participants must adhere to all the same rules and regulations, including drug testing. Curling is known among its peers as the game of good sportsmanship.

The game is more than 500 years old. There is much argument on where Curling originated. Many European countries claim ownership to the initial concept of Curling. Some of the earliest examples are found in two oil paintings by the Dutch master Pieter Bruegel. The paintings, entitled "Winter Landscape with Skaters and a Birdtrap" and "Ice Shooting", depict a Bavarian game played with a long stick handle moving stones.

The Scots have the famous Striding Stone. When a pond was drained in Dunblane, Scotland, a stone in the basic shape and size of the earliest Curling stones was found on the bottom. What made the discovery so amazing was the date on the stone, 1511. The Scots hold deeply they are the inventors of the game.

Probably the true beginnings of the game will never be known. But, for sure, the Scots developed the game and imported it around the world. Today, by far, the Canadians have the most Curlers. With a total of 1.5 million in the world, Canada boasts the largest following with one million. In the United States, there are approximately 10,000, men, women, and children curling.

The Schenectady Curling Club is one of the oldest Clubs in the United States. They are the Northeast regional governing body of curling. They oversee competition, scoring, and record keeping. The closer you get to the Canadian border, the more likely you are to find sheets of curling ice.

This brief overview only touches on the colorful history and development of the sport of Curling. The game is chocked full of rules and equipment standards. As with any sport, the athletes take their game very seriously. The goals of the curling community are to promote the ease and fun of the sport. Their biggest goal was granted when it became an official Winter Olympic event.

If you are looking for a low pressure, competitive, winter activity, curling just might be for you. This team sport offers lots of team fun and good sportsmanship. Primarily an indoor sport, it is easy to enjoy with a warm sweater and some warm shoes. A few hours of practice gets you up to par.

Ahhh ... let's sit back, relax and enjoy some ice fishing while, we can

by Ed Larkin

The leaves have long fallen from the trees, you cleaned and returned your rods and hunting guns to their cabinets until next year's outings. Winter's gray sky prepares you for a season of dreaming about next year's fishing and hunting trips.

Why dream about sporting activities, and why wait for the springtime? Wintertime offers some of the most exciting fresh water fishing of the year. Ice fishing is an inexpensive way to enjoy the coldest of deep dark winter days. For under a hundred bucks you can outfit yourself with all the basic essentials needed for hours of ice fishing.

Ice fishing differs greatly from open-water fishing and the reasons are equipment, fishing technique, and winter weather. It is important to have a basic knowledge of these topics. Success in catching fish, comfort, and safety depend on your ability to understand the unique experience of ice fishing.

There are two methods of ice fishing, the tip-up and the jigging rod. The tip-up consist of three strips of wood, each about 16-20 inches long. Two of the pieces form an X over the hole in the ice to keep the tip-up upright. The middle pole contains the spool and flexible metal strip with the tip-up flag. Jigging rods are as simple as culling a piece of pine 3" thick by 18" inches long and culling each of the ends into a U shaped opening and wrapping some line around the stick. You can buy a jigging rod from a store or put together a jig-pole using an inexpensive reel and a short, light action rod.

Other basic equipment should include an ice Auger (manual or power), ice chisel, ice skimmer, a sled with a box attached to hold tackle, basic equipment, and bait. The sled will help make the trip over the ice a lot easier than carrying all that gear.

The cold slows everything down, and fish are no exception, but fish still search for an easy feed. Certain times of day, depth, and types of bait will better your chances for catching fish. The early morning and early evening seem the most productive times. Like all fishing, you never know when you might get a strike. So fish all day.

After culling your holes with your ice auger, sound the bottom (use a small lead weight clamped or tied to your line) of the lake or pond where you are fishing. Depending on the amount of holes you are allowed to fish (check state regulations), it is best to fish at various heights off the bottom to range where the fish are feeding. When using tip-ups, you can bait them with grubs, worms, minnows, shiners, suckers. Minnows and shiners will attract most fish and are readily available at bait stores throughout the winter.

Jigging is simple but calls for trying different jigging lures, different depths, and using combinations of live bait with jigging lures. As if you were casting for Bass, changing lures, colors, and sizes until you find what they are biting on works equally as well when jigging. Also, sound the bottom, and then start from the bottom and work your way up until you get some action.

Early in the season fish shallow and fish between 2-6 feet below the ice cap. Some fish cruise just below the ice cap until colder water pushes them down. If you fish for rainbows during the spring/summer, wait until you hook into one during first ice. Finding the right combination is the trick. Fish deeper as the winter progresses. There are no hard and fast rules. Try different methods or ask other anglers what they are using. People who ice fish are generally friendly and are more than willing to share a tip or technique.

Ice fishing is a highly enjoyable outdoor activity. As with any outdoor activity, common sense, planning, and knowing the hazards will greatly reduce the chance of injury or loss of life.

You should never venture onto a frozen lake or pond until you are sure of the thickness of the ice. Different color ice is stronger than other colors of ice. For example, clear blue lake ice will support more weight than slush ice. A basic guide to follow is: 2-6 inches for one person on foot, 8-10 inches for snowmobiles, 12-14 inches for a medium to heavy truck. Again, this is a fire laws before building a fire). Bring some sheet cardboard and make a barrier. A tent will also work to minimize the effects of the wind.

As mentioned earlier, the cost of getting set up is inexpensive.

*Manual ice auger 20-30 $

*Ice chisel 10-15$

*Ice skimmer 4-8$

*Tip-ups 10-20$ apiece (There are several types, but all work along the same principle.)

*Jigging rod 10-15$ (Cheaper if you manufacture one at home.)

The sled to pull the gear over the ice can be put together using an old rail sled or out of wood and sheet metal. Most of this stuff is sold in hardware stores, department stores, and sports shops. It is a good idea to buy at least one item from your favorite sports shop, for the simple reason basic guide. Springs, underwater currents, as well as dock pumps all effect the thickness of ice. If you are not sure of the thickness, poke a hole in the ice, ask a local, or check with the local bait and tackle shop.

A good idea is to carry a pair of ice claws in case you fall through the ice. Ice claws allow you to claw your way back onto thicker ice. Ice claws are commercially available or you make a pair from a set of awls. Keep some spare clothes or blankets nearby in case you need to warm yourself or someone else who went for a mid-winter dip. Immediately find a warm place if you fall through the ice to become warm.

People question the sanity of people who get up before the sun rises to sit on a wind-whipped frozen lake all day. Simply put, the fishing is great in the middle of the winter. But, to enjoy ice fishing one must dress appropriately. That includes layering clothing (wool or Gortex), a good pair of insulated boots (pac boots), gloves, hat, and a face covering.

A thermos of hot liquids such as soup or hot chocolate with some good homemade deli sandwiches are ideal for fueling the body and baffling the cold. Avoid alcohol; it may make you feel warm for a moment, but in reality, it works as a vassal constrictor and it makes it more difficult for your body to warm itself. Drink plenty of fluids. Dehydration can occur just as easy in the wintertime as in the summertime. Wind chill can change a 25 degree day into a 25 below day in no time at all.

Protect yourself from the wind by building a snow wall and making a small fire (check local regulations of acquiring some knowledge from the store expert.

Ice fishing for some people is the only time of year to fish. They invest in snow machines and four wheelers and build ice huts, complete with wood stoves. There are tournaments all over New England for some serious prizes. As with all outdoor pursuits, you can get carried away with buying all the "essentials". Keep it basic and get to know the sport. Fish with your family or friends and split the cost of the essentials.

This is the year to go out and do some ice fishing. This unique type of fishing combines exciting action with a wonderful outdoor experience. The winter offers some of the best fishing all year. If you plan ahead and use cold weather safety, you will return to the ice year after year.

IF IT'S BROKEN...

Most houses have a few "little" problems, like leaking faucets, a stove burner that won't light, or electrical outlets with too much "spark". These defects may not seem very important, unless your house is about to go on the market.

We rarely have difficulty getting sellers to agree to paint, replace worn carpets or plant a few flowers in the front yard. These kinds of repairs obviously increase the overall appeal of the property. However, if any of the major systems in your home need maintenance, be sure to have the necessary repairs made. It is also a good idea to have your furnace, central air-conditioning system, plumbing and wiring checked as part of your pre-marketing efforts. The best rule is—if it's broken, fix it!

The purchase agreement requires that a house be conveyed with all the systems in working order, and most buyers will bring in a home inspector to identify any problems. During the period of time between the "meeting of the minds" and the removal of the inspection contingencies, the buyers are the most vulnerable to an attack of buyer's remorse. This is also the time when anything that hasn't been repaired could become a major issue.

Clancy leads Cats Boys Hoop team to 2-1 week

by Jamie Pote

After splitting two terrific ball games, the Wilmington High School boys basketball team won their sixth game of the season on Tuesday night ... but this was not a pretty game to watch.

Wilmington hosted Rockport and before they could blink their eyes they were down 12-1. The Cats worked their way up to a three-point lead at halftime at 20-17. And behind great second half sparks given by Brian Thresher and Paul Tentindo, the Cats had an ten-point lead.

But Rockport hit three of their seven three-pointers of the night in the last two minutes or so to cut the lead to four. But with about 1:30 left, Dennis Ingram sunk a big jumper and the Cats went on with the 41-37 victory.

Said head coach Jim McCune, "This was probably one of the worst games I have ever sat through. It was ugly for sure. But getting big second halves out of Brian and Paul is a great sign."

Thresher scored all of his 11 points in the second half, while also grabbing a total of 12 boards. Eric Clancy was the team's high scorer with 14, while, Eric McKenna chipped in with 3 and Phil Bates added two. McCune said, Tentindo played very well giving the team a big spark with some great passes and just plain old heads-up play.

On Monday night, Wilmington again came out slow as they trailed Dracut 20-11 and then 25-20 at the break. Wilmington cut the lead to three, but Dracut quickly drove it back up to nine.

But with 8 seconds left in the game, Eric Clancy (15 points, 11 assists) nailed a three-pointer and the Cats trailed 54-53. Two Dracut free throws put the nail in the coffin as Dracut won this one, 56-53.

"We played awfully hard in that game, but we came up a little short," McCune said.

Also playing well against Dracut were: Scott Swiezynski (15 points, 16 rebounds); Tim Gillis (8 points); Ingram (6 points); Bates (4 points) and Thresher (two points each).

Finally this past Friday begun what was the first of three games in four days. Wilmington was down 14-2 but was ahead by one at the half. Clancy, though, really came on huge with his best game ever at WHS as he poured in 24 points while adding 8 assists in the 62-51 win over Newburyport.

Swiezynski added 10 points and 12 boards, while, Thresher (7 points), McKenna, Bates, Dick Gillis and Ingram (all four points each) and Tim Gillis (three points) and DiJulia (two points) also played well in the win.

The Cats are now 6-3 overall and 4-2 in the league which is good for third place behind Mas-conomet and North Andover.

The Cats are again busy this upcoming week and a half with an away game this Friday against Hamilton-Wenham, before coming home for three straight next week on Monday against Ipswich at 7:00 p.m. and Wednesday and Friday beginning at 7:30.

Wilmington Squirt B's blank Burlington

Wilmington's Squirt B hockey team, (sponsored by Shea Concrete) notched another Dual State League victory Sunday morning with a convincing 5-0 win over Burlington.

Wilmington's Eric Ollila started the scoring with 5:05 left in the first period. When Burlington mistakenly left Ollila uncovered during a line change, he grabbed the puck at center ice and swept in on the goal to fire a blazing wrist shot into the top corner.

Wilmington forwards Jackie Rideout, Edzo Tucker and Joey Pino exhibited some excellent forechecking, keeping the puck in the Burlington zone for much of the period.

But it was the second period in which the Cats really exploded, scoring four unanswered goals. Steve Emery took a nice pass from Edzo Tucker and scored on a great wrist shot from the corner which caromed off the goalie's ankle into the net to put Wilmington up 2-0.

Ollila then added his second of the day, knocking in his own rebound after a super centering pass from Kevin Velardo.

A minute later Bryant Buck scored on a breakaway with a nifty wrist shot into the twine, this goal also set up by a Velardo pass. Then with two minutes left in the second, Emery lit the scoring lamp for the second time on a power play after receiving a super centering pass from Joey Pino who battled for it behind the net.

Playing super defense in front of Wildcat goalie Dean Smith were Richie Buckley, Eddie Lopez, Jennifer Corcoran and Jimmy Fitzpatrick. This defensive squad held Burlington at bay for the third period to clinch the well deserved shutout for goaltender Smith, his second of the year.

The Squirt B's next game is scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Saturday, January 18 in Everett when they will go head to head with Methuen in a Valley league contest...Go Wildcats!!

Kristen Thomas, daughter of Debra Thomas of Wilmington and Michael Thomas of Manchester, N.H., helped the Cushing Academy Girls Hockey Team tie Lake Placid on Sunday, January 12. Kristen played a superb game defensively and was a leader to the team, helping Cushing come away with a 3-3 tie.

Cushing will take on BB&N Wednesday, Jan. 15 at 4:15 at Iorio arena.

K of C Free Throw Contest

The Fr. Croke Council, Wilmington Knights of Columbus, with the cooperation of the Wilmington Recreation Department and the High School Athletic Department will sponsor its annual basketball free throw contest at WHS gym Saturday morning, January 18. The contest will begin at 10 a.m.

Competition is for boys and girls ages 10, 11, 12, 13, 14 age groups only. Grouping will be based on age as of January 1, 1997. There are separate categories for boys and girls. No prior registration is necessary. Trophies will be awarded to the winners in each category and those winners can advance to district, regional and state shootouts.

All boys and girls in these age groups are encouraged to come on down and join in the fun.

Bowhunter Course in Stoneham

A free Bowhunter Education Course will be offered February 8 at Stoneham Elks Club, Main Street (Rt. 28), Stoneham. The class will run from 8 a.m. to finish. Pre-registration is required by calling the Hunter Education Bureau at 508-792-7434.

Those attending are asked to take their bows and arrows if they have them. Attendance is open to adult men and women as well as minors over 10 years of age with parental permission. This Course is handicapped accessible.

These courses are offered throughout the state by the Mass. Environmental Police in cooperation with the International Bowhunter Education Foundation. The program is presented by volunteer instructors of the Mass. Hunter Education Program for both the experienced and novice hunter. Among topics covered will be hunter safety, ethics, selection of equipment, game preparation, and hunting methods, including tracking.

Each course graduate receives a state Bowhunter Certificate. These Mass. courses are honored by other U.S. states and Canadian provinces which require such training of archery hunters. For this reason, many experienced sportsmen planning hunting trips to states such as New York attend these sessions.

For additional information, write Hunter Education, PO Box 408, Westminster, MA 01473-0498 or call the bureau office at 508-792-7434.

76'ers bury Hawks in Tewksbury youth girls hoop play

Senior League

76ers 30 Hawks 12

Crystal Ornelas scored 10 points followed by Becky Taylor and Marcia Treartin with six each as the 76ers beat the Hawks in recent Tewksbury Senior Girls Basketball play. The defensive player of the game was Erin Mooney. Lauren Welch and Katelyn Westaway played well for the Hawks. Deirdre Hoyt added six points for the Hawks.

Crusaders 29 Huskies 20

Andrea Toland and Alyssa Bordonaro scored as the Crusaders prevailed in a hard fought game for second place in the league. Vanessa Russell scored seven for the Huskies and Sara Carter scored six. Defensively, Kerianne Barry and Danielle Dumond were standouts for the Huskies and Megan Harriman had 10 rebounds.

Cavs 34 Sonics 29

Despite a furious rally by the Sonics, the Cavs were able to hold on for a narrow victory. The winners were led by Amy Von Kahle's 10 points and Laura Petro's eight. Jessica Maxwell was the defensive standout. Kaitlyn O'Brien led the Sonics with 15 points.

Trojans 30 Nuggets 13

Amanda Venuti was game high scorer with 10 points and Lauren Cullity added six as the Trojans easily beat the Nuggets. Jessica Breslin scored nine points for the Nuggets.

Kings 33 Panthers 25

The Kings rallied from 18-points down to storm past the Panthers for an exciting win. Lindsey Miller scored 14 points and Meghan Winston added eight for the Kings. Lisa White scored seven points for the Panthers and Kerri Aherne scored six.

Amie Leboeuf and Colleen Watters were defensive standouts for the Panthers.

Tewksbury Pee Wee IV team proves why they are number one

Over the weekend, the Tewksbury Pee Wee IV team demonstrated once again why they and the Patriots are Number One around this area.

In a Saturday afternoon clash at Merrimack Valley Forum, the team scored two goals in each period as they held off Lynnfield III, 6-3. The team was led by the Hickey Line, centered by Ryan, and flanked by Matt Soni and Adam Gondola. Soni and Gondola each chipped in with two goals and two assists and Hickey added two assists as the offensive unit pressed throughout.

Doug Martin once again showed why he is the cagey veteran of this team, when he took off on an end to end rush late in the game and faked out the entire Lynnfield team before slapping one into an empty net, preserving the win for the team. The kids now stand at 9-2 in the Valley League.

On Sunday, as a precursor of good things to come for fans around here, the team outducked yet another C team, as they shut out Haverhill by a count of 4-0.

With most of the kids getting a chance to try new positions for this game, everyone played exceptionally well in front of Ryan Burke and Chris Gatti, their two solid netminders.

Hickey volunteered to play defense and had a superb game as a blueliner, earning him game puck honors with Mark Stameich, who was called up from the Pee Wee V squad.

Also playing effectively were Nick Daloia, moving up from his defensive position, Carolyn Danecki, who hustled all day on a line with Dalora and Timmy Tavares. Danecki gave the team a lead it would never relinquish as she fired a nice shot only two minutes into the game.

Strong efforts were also shown by Mike Legere and Brian Nik-onchuk. The win puts the team at 3-1 in the Dual State League, next up for the team is a tough Manchester III squad this Sunday morning before participating in the tough play downs Sunday night.

Joe and Carol Rocha say, "It's time to clean your gutters"....and American Gutter is ready!

Family values are important to you. You make decisions based on how they will affect your loved ones. It follows that you would want your home improvements done by a business that applies the same family values in everything they do.

American Gutter Cleaning Co. is that kind of family run company. Joe Rocha established the American Gutter Cleaning Co over 10 years ago. He and his wife, Carol, run the company, along with their highly trained, reliable, and fully insured staff.

If gutters aren't cleaned at least once or twice a year, you could be increasing the chance of interior water damage to your home. It's important to have your gutters cleaned and inspected for minor damage before the New England snow and ice arrive, and also in the spring after the maples and other trees have dropped their flowers or any remaining leaves.

If you're like most people and don't look forward to climbing up a ladder to do the job yourself, let American Gutter help you keep that ladder in the shed where it belongs. Their service is prompt, and their prices are reasonable; an average house, with aluminum gutters, is $35-$75. If you purchase a Gutter Cleaning Contract, which includes two cleanings per year, you'll enjoy a 10% discount and receive a free gutter inspection. And now, in addition to cleanings, American Gutter will install your new gutters. If you're planning to install 100 ft or more of new gutters, take advantage of their special $50 discount.

To make arrangements and become a valued customer of the American Gutter Cleaning Co., call (508) 851-6045 today! Don't you think it's well worth it?

Minute Photo • 2144 Main Street, Tewksbury • (508) 658-5556

If you like photography, you'll love Minute Photo! Their service is top notch and the quality is unmatched. Unlike the drugstore you always deal with a trained technician when you have your film developed at Minute Photo. Print film is processed on site by people who watch for quality. Each print is analyzed for color and density. Manager Karen McGary says it all, "It doesn't get any better!"

What you want is what you get. They don't charge extra for all the extras. Your film gets processed when you want it - No extra charge. Reprints of photos which aren't "just right" - No extra charge. (But, you'll probably never see one!)

A feature that you'll have to try is their new Kodak "Create • a • Print" 35 mm Enlargement machine. You can bring in your favorite negative and compose the photo on the TV screen and have the print in 5 minutes! You can make 5x7s, 8x10s, 8x12s, 11x14s and even 4x11 panoramics. Crop, Zoom and compose to your hearts content! You don't have to be an expert to get great prints. Assistance is available

Holidays are always the busiest picture taking time in America. People dress up in their finest and funniest. This Halloween Minute Photo is offering a FREE photo of your "Little Monster" in the Minute Photo Pumpkin Patch! Come in between noon and 6 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 31! (another "No charge")

For Christmas, Minute Photo will be taking pictures with Santa on Dec. 5th. This time they will be asking for a $2 donation which will be given to needy children. These photos and photos you take yourself can be used to create unique Christmas cards. Call 658-5556 for details on

Former National Geographic photographer Al Mellett

Has camera will travel

By DOUG WOOD-BOYLE

Taking a camera and traveling around the world is the stuff of which dreams and fantasies are made.

Things like being caught in a local religious riot in Afghanistan, or trying to cross a river, getting stuck, fighting off a bandit and fighting flood waters all at the same time. In other words testing your mettle as a person.

For one Wakefield resident those dreams came true, with those real adventures thrown in, as he traveled Asia, Africa and Europe on assignment for National Geographic.

Countries like Turkey, Afghanistan, Greece, Kenya, Tanzania, Zimbabwe, Zambia, South Africa and others as well as such man-made miracles as the St. Lawrence Seaway were all captured during Al Mellett's 12 year journey.

Mellett started on his road to adventure as a child on Vernon Street in Wakefield. He became interested in cameras and developing the pictures he took. However, World War II and a career as a civil engineer, although not putting a crimp in his adventures kept Mellett more or less tied down.

The start of the War saw Mellett serving as rationing supervisor for 57 cities and towns throughout the state. He then directed the field engineering of air bases in North Carolina.

Following that project Mellett went to the Solomon Islands in the Pacific as a warrant officer in the United States Navy. His job was demolition and fuel distribution but those adventures are another story.

After the War Mellett returned to the life of a civil engineer and the road took him to Turkey where he spent two years directing the survey and layout of a 300 foot high dam with tunnels, a powerhouse roads and transmission lines.

After returning to this country in 1953 Mellett eventually found his way to the St. Lawrence Power Project and essentially the start of his journey.

Mellett was originally hired to direct the survey crews for the project. However, when he was consulted on the possibility of hiring a photographer to capture the history of the waterway which connected the Great Lakes to the Atlantic Ocean, Mellett told the company that a photographer would have to be accompanied by an engineer who understood what was going on.

He then told them about his knowledge of photography and was assigned the job, which Al Mellett to S-4

Folks, do you believe in recycling Christmas Presents? We sure do in my family, and, the comical thing about it is a member of my family or a friend of mine may get the SAME present back.

Here folks is a true story of an expensive box of chocolates. I received it from Neil Collins. I immediately took the tag off and gave it to Bob Bonny. He then gave it to George Gould, who presented it to me Christmas morning.

Kathy unwrapped the package opened the box of chocolates and shouted to me, "Wow! George is as CHEAP as you are! There's four chocolates missing!"

School Notes

by Phyllis Nissen

Adding the fifth

Five goals finalized

"With an addition, and suggestions for further amendments, the School Committee recently voted unanimously to approve School Supt. Robert Neely's 1996-1997 goals," notes the Burlington edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"Neely had initially proposed four major goals, but following a recommendation by School Committee member John Vanella, added a fifth."

"The goal is: to conduct training for administrators and department chairmen regarding discrimination laws and regulations affecting public schools."

"The goal is relevant to Vanella's concerns on reducing the number of School Department cases that go before the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination (MCAD), thus cutting the town's legal costs."

"Vanella had requested that teachers and administrators be trained to avoid such cases.

"School Committee Chairwoman Christine Monaco asked Neely if he would incorporate into one of his goals some accountability for Massachusetts Educational Assessment Program (MEAP) test results."

"These tests are still very important as a tool," said Monaco, who added that she would suggest a task force at each school that would study results and come up with recommendations."

"Monaco said the MEAP goal could be incorporated into goal number four."

"Look at the MEAP tests for strengths and weaknesses," said Monaco. "I want to be sure they are noticed and they don't go away."

"The fourth goal is: to develop multiple assessments at all grade levels and subject areas that will provide information about what students can do."

"The other three goals center on: improving the condition of the school buildings, by the development of a five-year plan and warrant articles; reviewing and revising the entire curriculum; and providing all students with access to modern technology in order to prepare them for the 21st century."

'Enthusiastic' and 'eccentric'

"North Reading High School has participated in the Academic Decathlon Massachusetts State Competition for 10 years. This year's ritual began at 7 a.m. in the parking lot when 38 enthusiastic young Hornets boarded the bus along with their rather eccentric coach," notes the "North Reading Transcript."

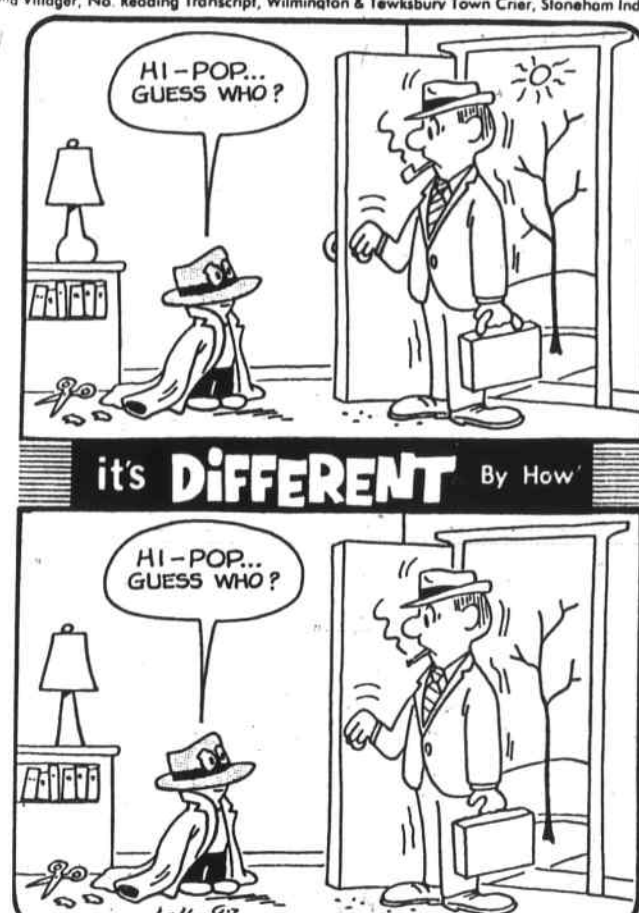

"During the long ride to Ashland, some quizzed each other, some studied, some conversed, and a few slept. Several members of the cast and crew of 'Voices 2000' also are decathletes. One of the thespians groaned, 'Why did I even bother to try to sleep last night?' Truly their Academic Decathlon involvement is a glowing testimony to the energy and exuberance of these youths."

"All schools in the eastern part of the state with fewer than 825 students (North Reading has 503) were eligible to compete in this division. Nineteen teams registered, and 17 turned out for the event. Thanks in large part to a second place finish in the Super Quiz, North Reading accomplished a very strong fifth place finish."

"The Super Quiz is a unique event. It is held in the gymnasium, and it involves one student at a time from each school trying to answer five questions that are read aloud while simultaneously being displayed on a large screen. This year's topic was 'The Information Revolution.' Coach Ray Landry blurted out, 'I can't even read these questions - let alone answer them.'"

If you'd like to read about your favorite school, student or teacher in "School Notes," please send school newsletters and other relevant information to Phyllis Nissen, "School Notes," Middlesex East Supplement, Box 240, Reading, MA 01867. We welcome student writing.

There are seven differences in the second picture. Can you spot them?

Child ID service offered

North America's most comprehensive Child Monitoring and Identification Service is being launched in North Reading. While this exciting concept is just getting off the ground here, thousands of children throughout North America have already subscribed. This service is also invaluable for the Alzheimer and Medical Alert patients.

Family Safety Link is a most descriptive name, because it does just that, offering nationwide emergency information 24 hours a day. Each child has their own unique computer code number. Names and addresses are never, ever used.

"Teaching Kids to Care"

"TEACHING KIDS TO CARE" will be a Camp Fire topic next Monday as part of Martin Luther King Day. Participating will be Star Flight Club members (l to r) Julia Perry, Kelly Cusulito and Catherine Grisct.

Teaching kids to care about their community, their world and themselves is the focus of a Camp Fire program scheduled for the Martin Luther King holiday.

The public is invited to join in the fun on Monday, January 20, at the Old South Methodist Church in Reading from 10 am to noon.

According to Linda Grisct, a Camp Fire leader from Reading, the 85 members of the local Camp Fire organization - from Reading, North Reading and Wakefield - will take part in "A Day to Care."

"We decided at about the time that Martin Luther King's birthday was named a holiday, that it would be a wonderful opportunity to seize the change to be a service date," Mrs. Grisct said. "Rather than take the day to go skiing or play, our youth use the day to give back to the community."

The annual event offers youth members a chance to offer their talents and service to their neighbors in each of the three towns. Here is a list of activities that the individual groups will sponsor:

Tray favors for Council on Aging; tool kits for a local family shelter; valentines for veterans; conservation posters for the Reading Municipal Light Department and Reading Water Department; sunshine cards for Council on Aging; can and bottle drive to support the Camp Fire volunteer in Bosnia; and a food drive for the food pantry.

Donations of the following items will be appreciated: used or new tools (hammers, screw drivers, pliers); toiletries for veterans (shaving cream, toothpaste, shampoo, soap); and food donations of canned and non-perishable food items for the food pantry.

Mrs. Grisct said that Camp Fire is a national organization that offers opportunities for boys and girls in grades kindergarten through high school. Youngsters meet in small neighborhood clubs for informal education programs that focus on individual growth, leadership, development and group decision making.

A Camp Fire club is a safe and caring place for young people to enjoy adventure, learn new skills, develop self-esteem and form positive friendships with their peers and adult leaders through a variety of outdoor education, camping, creative arts, community service and self reliance activities.

For information on Camp Fire programs, please plan to join the fun at the "Day to Care" or telephone Mrs. Grisct, 68 Sanborn Lane, Reading.

About The Towns by Phyllis Nissen

Guiding lights in Lynnfield and Winchester

Special light in Lynnfield

"Lynn Flannery of Lynnfield, Investigator of the Department of Social Services (DSS) Lawrence Area Office Intake Unit was recently honored for excellence in state service and outstanding work on behalf of children who have suffered from severe abuse and neglect at the 13th Annual Pride in Performance Awards Ceremony held in Boston," notes the "Lynnfield Villager."

"Over seven years, Flannery has never yielded in her commitment to treating families with respect or strong desire to see that parents truly appreciate the monumental gift of life that is a child. Conducting thorough and expert investigations, she contributes immensely to the Lawrence Office's ability to improve the lives of children and families. Flannery's message to families has always been one of hope, determination and acceptance of responsibility. Through this recognition, DSS brings a message to Flannery that her tireless efforts do not go unnoticed.

"DSS Commissioner Linda K. Carlisle was joined by DSS Deputy Commissioners Michael Weekes and John T. Farley III to present this year's awards to 15 individuals and groups, selected by their peers out of appreciation and respect for their tremendous contribution to the agency and the families it serves."

'Master plan' in motion

According to the Winchester edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle," the Winchester Educational Facilities Planning and Building Committee has established the following master plan:

"1. Each building will contain classrooms for full-day kindergarten classes.

"2. All elementary schools should have equity in opportunities and programs to the extent possible, including physical condition of facilities.

"3. The average class size will be maintained at 20, plus or minus. The optimal size in terms of student enrollment for each elementary school will have a top range of 400 students and a bottom range of the Vinson-Owen population (250).

"4. All spaces will be consistent with the state's guidelines for type and size of teaching areas.

"5. Each school should have separate and dedicated art and music classrooms meeting the state's guidelines.

"6. Each school will accommodate its own special education students with full accessibility. There will be workspaces for speech language, psychologists, social workers and CET chair, with one room to serve as a resource room and a small group room.

"7. There will be a library-media center in every school, with seating to accommodate 10 to 15 percent of each of the schools' student populations.

"8. There will be a gymnasium separate from the cafeteria-auditorium in each school, with a model for cafeterias different in some schools.

"9. The School Committee will be flexible on the issue of each school having a small serving kitchen for the school lunch program.

"10. The School Committee desires that each school retain a nurse's office-exam room suitable to its size, to provide health services, but is open in regard to proximity to the main office.

"11. Appropriate faculty work-rooms and meeting rooms to promote collaboration and communication among all staff members can be reduced in size.

"12. The School Committee agrees that the Central Office could be moved from the Lynch School to provide additional classrooms, but not to have the population of the Lynch School exceed 400 students.

"13. The School Committee would provide space for the Global Studies Center in one of the schools, but would be flexible.

"14. There will be space in each school for grouping of computers or other technology, in close proximity to the library-media center, in addition to the technology located in each classroom.

"15. Each school will be equipped with the appropriate hardware and software, including furniture, to implement the educational and technological philosophy of the school system.

"16. The Committee agreed that basement classrooms were not desirable.

"17. The Committee strongly supports minimal redistricting of students upon completion of the building renovation program."

Child ID

From S-2
Only authorized agencies can gain access to a child's emergency file. Children receive iron-on labels for their clothes, with special code numbers assigned to each child.

Unfortunately, each year millions of children are injured and tens of thousands lost or abducted. Eighty five percent of these children carry no ID. If a Family Safety Link youngster is ever in a position where they cannot speak for themselves, immediately we can help identify the child, locate the parents and relay valuable medical information.

Just stop in at Re/Max All Stars, 234 Park Street, North Reading and ask for the Family Safety Link information. These dedicated people are always supportive of children's safety measures. Or you may call the local Family Safety Link distributor, Mike Piscatelli at (508) 762-6120.

"About the Towns" covers recent events in the 13-town Middlesex East area. Because Middlesex East deadlines are early, please check the front sections of this paper for up-to-date information about your city or town. We also welcome original material - please send it to Phyllis Nissen, "About the Towns," Middlesex East Supplement, Box 240, Reading, MA 01867.

Al Mellett

included setting up a photo lab and hiring three other photographers to record history in the making.

As Mellett explained in 1960, National Geographic became interested in the project and sent a reporter and a photographer to do a story on it. In the end the magazine used Mellett's photos for the graphics around the story.

Having made a contact with the editors at National Geographic, Mellett was able to now combine his love for Turkey with a story idea.

Mellett present the idea to the magazine at their Washington D.C. office and was told to go with it. He was also advised to stop in Greece on his way to Turkey and talk with the magazine's bureau chief, Peter Throckmorton about other possible story ideas.

As Mellett describes it in his unpublished memoirs 'One For The (bumpy) Road,' "This was the beginning of an eleven year odyssey in 35 countries, beyond anything I could ever have imagined. I never knew what may happen the next day but I was free to explore wherever I chose to go, whatever seemed interesting, such as the sources of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers; the route of Alexander the Great from Greece to Pakistan and deep into the Sahara in Egypt; the sites of the seven wonders of the ancient world; in snow and ice in the Himalayas in July; the route of the first crusade; being attacked by a fanatical religious mob in Afghanistan and caught in a flash flood in Northern Afghanistan near the Russian border while fending off a robber in the night."

Mellett related that during this trip to Turkey, although familiar with the country and its foods, he contracted what was diagnosed as amoebic dysentery. After that sickness Mellett said he decided to do his own cooking.

This decision along with other factors made the Land Rover unsuitable for his needs, therefore he sought another form of transportation. Mellett had been introduced to the Mercedes military vehicles and contracted with the company to build the frame on which he had built a body of his own design.

The body was essentially a self-contained camper on the style that is very familiar to today's roads. The project took two and one-half months.

To show others on the road that he was an English speaking person and on his own, he named the vehicle "One for the Road."

"I've seen that vehicle go where tanks wouldn't go," Mellett said. "It would take a bow wave up to the roof."

One of his design innovations was to build a snorkel as an air intake valve for the engine should it get caught under water.

He lived in the vehicle for four years while traveling Asia, Europe and Africa. During the period, Mellett met and talked with world leaders such as the Dalai Lama, who he considers a friend.

Mellett tells the story of a time he was stuck in Kabul, Afghanistan at Christmas, while waiting for Daimler Benz to fly in the special tires for his vehicle so that he could replace a flat.

Once the work was completed, he attempted to travel to India to escape the winter in Afghanistan. However, the cold weather and a maintenance problem combined to provide Mellett with a cracked engine block.

A new engine had to be flown in and the trip to India was finally completed.

At the end of the winter, Mellett returned to Afghanistan and was travelling along the northern border with Russia.

He described the land as nothing but "pure white pipe clay" which made it tough for his tires to get any traction. The roadway that Mellett was following crossed a brook three times and on the last crossing Mellett's vehicle became stuck.

Mellett said that as he attempted to free the vehicle he heard a roar of water and found a flash flood about to immerse the rear of the vehicle.

Mellett started to move some of his equipment up to the front of the vehicle, which was facing up a slope, when he heard a noise near his rear window. Looking up he found someone trying to break into the camper.

According to Mellett, he was able to scare the man away and never heard from him again. Mellett spent the night in the vehicle afraid to open the door because the water would swamp the inside. He notes that the water was about knee deep in the camper.

The next day, Mellett was able to free the camper and drive off. However, he did not get very far before the vehicle started to chug and act sluggish.

According to Mellett, three mechanics and a rebuilt engine later, he found that the gas tank had become clogged with the clay and that it was traveling through the gas line as it broke down.

Another adventure occurred in Afghanistan due to an engine problem in Jalal Bad, Afghanistan (near the Khyber Pass). Mellett and a friend from Denmark had just returned from Kabul with a new bearing for the engine.

They had just completed the

These young men move with the graceful agility of adagio dancers and they all have the strength of a Charles Atlas. God Bless them all. Here are a few who I see every Tuesday morning, Paul Lacazillade, Bobby Grimes, Bob Tuttle, Bruce 'Juice' Anderson, Ed Nolan, Mark Hutchinson, Jimmy LaGrassa and Don Orio.

I am sure they have counterparts in every city and town. American workers are lazy? Bah humbug.

Ryan Powers reached across the table and got the Larger piece of the Apple Pie, leaving the much smaller piece for his brother, Richie. Glaring at his brother, Richie shouted, "You are NO Gentleman, I would have taken the Smaller piece!" Ryan declared "I don't know what the repair to the camper when they heard a loud crowd advancing up the street destroying everything in their path.

The pair was able to escape into a nearby hotel that had been vacated. As the crowd advanced Mellett and his friend found a hiding place in the attic of the building. Although the unruly mob destroyed the building they did not come upon the pair.

Mellett later learned that a local Mullah (Moslem priest) had stirred up the mob to destroy anything of Western influence that was taking over the Mullah's power. The mob had stopped short of finding the pair and ran when the military arrived on the scene to quell the riot.

Today, Mellett is enjoying his sixth retirement and travels the United States in a smaller camper. This is in between volunteer stints, at the Galvin Middle School where Mellett keeps the students enthralled with his stories and slide shows.

As Mellett said, "My life on the road taught me to cope with anything."

"When things happen to me on the road or here, I say 'Well this has happened.' I look at the situation and find the best way out."

He credits this attitude for getting him through his last adventure, one a medical nature, when he had a bout with Cancer and won.

At 85, Mellett still has a lot more of his journey to complete.

The teacher asked Robert Burns, "what do you expect to be when you graduate high school?" Bobby Burns smiled and replied, "About 27 years old Miss Smith!"

Folks many of us know how true this is. How 'Long' just a minute is depends on which side of the Bathroom Door we're on.

President Calvin Coolidge was a man of few words. His short statement for a second term was, "I do NOT choose to run." He retired to his farm in Vermont and when word was flashed to the White House that he died a news reporter asked, "How can they tell?"

I remember when, Father Dennis was making out a Baptismal Certificate. He had misplaced the desk calendar so he turned to the child's mother and asked, "Let's see, this is the 12th isn't it?" "I beg your pardon Father," the tired mother exclaimed, "this is only the 10th!"

Johnny Ave got up in a crowded Blue Line train and gave his seat to a woman and she Fainted. When she came to she thanked Johnny and He fainted.

Folks, sometimes I carry my humor a little too far. At a recent Navy Yard Reunion Party I asked a beautiful young woman (who was walking by my table), "are you going to the ladies room?" "Yes," she replied. "Well," I said, "mention my name and you'll get a good seat." She later apparently told her husband what I said and the next morning I had to explain to Kathy how I got a black eye.

CHILDREN INVITED TO JOURNEY INTO JAZZ

On Saturday, January 18 beginning at 10:30am, Semenya McCord and a trio of exceptional musicians will present, "Journey Into Jazz" as part of the John F. Kennedy Library's Children's Hour series.

The program is a participatory anthology of the African-American musical experience, highlighting the social historical significance of this art form. Spirituals, blues, and songs of the swing and bebop eras are given particular emphasis. Also featured are instrumental styles on piano, acoustic bass and drums.

Ms. McCord, a renowned vocalist, composer and music educator, received a Martin Luther King, Jr. Award for Musical Excellence in the City of Boston in 1990.

Children's Hour at the Kennedy Library is appropriate for family audiences and children of ages 5 and older. All programs are free and open to the public. Reservations are required and may be made by calling 617-929-4523.

PUBLIC OBSERVATORY NIGHT SCHEDULED

The Harvard-Smithsonian Center for Astrophysics (CfA) invites the public to attend a free program on astronomy on the third Thursday of every month throughout the year, featuring a nontechnical lecture, a short film or video, and telescopic observing, weather permitting.

On January 16, Ursula Marvin, of the Center for Astrophysics, will present the lecture "Meteorites from Mars: Do They Carry Signs of Ancient Life?"

WEDNESDAY/THURSDAY, JANUARY 15, 16, 1997-PAGE S-5

The program begins at 8pm; doors open at 7:30. Admission is free and no tickets or reservations are necessary.

For information about accessibility, please call 617-495-7461; TDD 617-495-7372.

MOTHERS OF TWINS MEET JANUARY 19

The North Suburban Mothers of Twins Club will hold two of their monthly meetings on Tuesday, January 28, at the Saugus YMCA, 298 Main Street. The first meeting is a discussion group from 7 to 8pm for parents with children under age 18 months.

Common topics are feeding twins and triplets, coordinating sleeping schedules, and playgroups. The second meeting will be held from 8 to 9:30 pm and will include a panel of parents with twins and triplets ages 5 through 10. Through a question and answer format the panel will share experiences including school placement and encouraging individuality.

The Mothers of Twins Club is a National Organization which provides support and encouragement to all families and expecting parents of multiples. The meetings give members an opportunity to share ideas, equipment, clothing, and fun. For more information contact Peg Doyle at 508-664-3205.

Charming ranch house

As you drive up the quiet cul-de-sac in the heart of Stoneham, the first thing that catches your eye is the peaceful and charming neighborhood. The next thing that will grab your attention is the adorable six room ranch located at the end of the street. Pull in the driveway, because you just found the perfect first home.

As you walk in, step up into your beautiful kitchen that has been recently remodeled. Let the sun soak through the oversized window as you enjoy cooking your favorite meals.

After dinner, resign to your living room located off the kitchen, where you can enjoy a cozy fire during the cold winter months. Brand new windows will help the heat stay in. This room sports wall to wall carpeting, but if you prefer, hardwood floors are an option underneath the carpet.

The first bedroom, located off to the left of the hallway, has built-in shelves and desk for the studious family member. This room also has hardwood floors and a large closet. Across the way is the full bathroom that was redone only two years ago with new tiles and mirrored glass sliders to the shower and bath.

Diagonally across the bathroom is the master bedroom where there are hardwood floors, closet space and a ceiling fan. At the end of the hallway is another bedroom, decorated for the children of the family with sliding doors to a large closet and hardwood floors. In this room, you will find a doorway which leads up to your walk-up attic. You'll find a super large cedar closet and tons of storage space, so there is no need for clutter.

Come down stairs where you will find the perfect entertaining room. Decorated with wood paneling which gives it a country look and feel, this room can be used as a family room, a sports room for those billiards fans, or perhaps a lounging area for your friends while a Sunday football game is playing. The other side of the basement is set up for all your laundry needs and storage space to spare. An added bonus: A double soap-stone sink.

The children will enjoy hours of playtime in the beautifully landscaped backyard. It is fenced in, so there is peace of mind and privacy. You will notice the quality neighborhood from the day you move in and friends will come very easily here.

Stoneham has many qualities to offer the first time home buyer. With only ten miles from Boston and thirty minutes to the Massachusetts Turnpike, this home is centrally located. For the kids, there are nine public schools, seven of which are elementary schools, one junior high school and one senior high school. For their pleasure, Stoneham offers seven playgrounds with supervised summer programs, thirteen tennis courts, an MDC swimming pool and a town-owned indoor heated skating rink. Stoneham Zoo is centrally located as well as the Middlesex Fells, one of the largest state parks. This park has nature trails and bridle paths as well as picnicking. There is a local shopping center for all your grocery and shopping needs.

All these characteristics make this home a perfect one for those starting out. Marsha Weiss is the listing and marketing representative. If you would like to schedule your private showing, or have any questions regarding this property, please call Marsha Weiss at Re/Max Top Achievers, Inc., at 617-944-6060.

RELAX IN FRONT of a warm fire in the lovely livingroom of this 6 room ranch.

THIS RECENTLY renovated kitchen has oversized windows that let the sun stream in.

This cozy ranch sits on a cul-de-sac in a quiet neighborhood

New uses for plastic bags

Plastic grocery, sandwich and trash bags can be used in a surprising variety of ways to make work easier around the house and workshop.

Painting a room? Here's a good way to keep wall lamps, faucets, handles and other items paint-free. Cut a plastic grocery bag to size and wrap it tightly around the item. Use masking tape to hold the bag in place. Also, use plastic sandwich bags as makeshift gloves to protect phones and doorknobs from paint-splattered hands.

To remove a paint-filled roller cover without getting paint on your hands, pull a plastic bag over the end of the roller. Pull the cover off, then seal the bag and discard it.

You can keep leftover paint fresh by pouring it into a heavy-weight, sealable plastic bag. Squeeze the air out before you seal the bag. Then put the bag in the original paint can and tap the lid closed.

When you need to clamp irregular shapes, hold them together with a sand-filled plastic bag. For small fragile items, bag. For small fragile items, cut a bag to size, fill it with sand and close it with masking tape. Use larger bags for big items.

Wood filler and putty dry out quickly when exposed to air. To slow the drying, use a putty knife to transfer some of the material to a small sandwich bag. Seal the bag, then cut a small hole in one corner. Then just squeeze the bag as if you were decorating a cake. When

Your Home: Q&A

What should I look for when purchasing new windows for my home?

Buying the right energy-efficient windows for your own particular needs goes beyond considering just the R value of the glazing system. The window frames also should play an important role in the buying decision, as should the location of the house and where in the house the new windows will be installed.

Here are some points to consider when shopping for new windows:

—Energy ratings. Most manufacturers provide both the center-of-glass and the entire window energy ratings. Obviously, the entire window R value is a better indicator of performance. Don't be confused if you see a U value alongside the familiar R rating. They are actually different sides of the same coin. R values measure resistance to heat transfer — the higher the better. U values measure heat transfer — the lower the better. To keep everything straight, convert U values to R values by dividing the U value into 1.

—Shading coefficient. This rating tells how much solar energy a window captures. A single pane of glass has a shading coefficient of .1. A blocked window would be rated at 0. So, if reducing cooling costs is important, pick a window that has a low shading coefficient. Tinted windows are good choices, but low-e technology designed for warm climates can also produce low shading coefficients while providing clear glass.

—Handling light. Besides letting heat energy pass through, windows also allow light into our homes. Not all windows do this equally. Clear double-glazed windows allow about 77 percent of the visible light to pass through. Low-e glass allows about 70 percent and a high-R window, around 62 percent. Part of the light is in the form of the ultraviolet radiation that's responsible for the fading of carpets and furniture. You'll find windows that allow everything from more than 50 percent of the UV radiation through; to windows that let less than 1 percent through.

—Air infiltration. This is important in all climates. Windows should be well-constructed and allow a minimum of air infiltration. The design of some types of windows makes them tighter than others. Casement and awning windows are tighter than double-hung windows, for example. A rating of .02 or .03 is very tight; a rating of .5 is loose. These ratings apply to the window itself, not the actual installation. Stopping leaks around a window once it's in the wall is the responsibility of the installer.

Buying windows can get confusing. The trick is to decide what each window should do and then buy the system that best meets those goals.

Capital gains on houses under $500,000 could go

For the past several years the National Association of REALTORS (NAR) has fought aggressively for budget legislation that would provide capital gains tax relief without sacrificing mortgage interest payment deductions, and this year it appears Congress might approve a measure that would eliminate capital gains taxes for homeowners selling a property for under $500,000.

Two NAR-supported tax reform measures proposed by President Clinton "stand an excellent chance of becoming law next year," said Greater Lowell Board of REALTORS, Inc., President, Joseph Shimer. "We've done a good job of convincing the American people and our nation's policy makers that home ownership incentives, like the federal tax deduction for mortgage interest and property taxes ought to stay," he said.

Legislators of both parties favor capital gains tax relief, so local real estate officials are encouraged that President Clinton's proposal may become law. The Clinton proposal would exclude up to $500,000 in gain from each sale of a principal residence from the capital gains tax (single tax payers could exclude up to $250,000)-allowing for exemption every time a family sells a home.

Current law provides complete tax exemption on a one-time-only basis for people over the age of 55, or for people who rollover the profit from their home sale into the purchase of an equal or more expensive home.

According to the White House, this proposal would exempt over 99 percent of home sales from capital gains taxation, dramatically simplifying taxes and record keeping for over 60 million homeowners.

The President also has proposed allowing penalty-free IRA withdrawals for first-time home buyers. The White House estimates the proposal to cost $1.4 billion through the year 2002, and has proposed to raise the Single-Family Loan Limits under the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) program to the Freddie Mac loan limit, a proposal supported by NAR.

Middlesex East Sports Athletes & Activities

BY PAUL FEELY

• MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA QUESTION: With the Patriots on everyone's minds these days, here's another football-related question: How many points did Chicago Cardinals fullback Ernie Nevers rack up in a 1929 game to set the highest single-game scoring mark in National Football League history? Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

• The UMass-Dartmouth men's basketball team may have lost the game, 76-72, on the road against Western Connecticut, but Reading's TIM NELSON poured in 11 points, including three three-pointers.

• Tewksbury Girls Softball is currently seeking and accepting applications for coaches for the travel teams. Anyone interested in applying for one of the five teams (ages 10, 12, 14, 16, 18 and under) should call Bill Surran at 658-7472.

• Need some clues to help out with the above-mentioned trivia question? Nevers might as well have been the only player to touch the pigskin through the entire game.

• In honor of the Patriots hosting the AFC Championship game for the first time in their history this week, here is a BONUS SPORTS TRIVIA QUESTION: What team did the Patriots defeat on the final day of the 1985 season to clinch a playoff spot? Answer will appear elsewhere in the column.

• The Plymouth State College men's ice hockey team has a definite Reading connection, with former Rocket's MARK MEM-MOLO and MIKE FLAHERTY skating for the Panthers as juniors. Through nine games Memmolo had one goal and two assist for three points, while Flaherty had a goal and an assist for two points. In their young careers, Memmolo has scored three goals and recorded 12 assists for 15 points, while Flaherty has five goals and seven assists for 12 points. Both skate as defensemen.

• Playing for the Nichols College men's ice hockey team, Reading's JEFF BOUCHER is second in goals with five and tied for third in points with six.

• Take two minutes for a good cause and have your picture taken in the original penalty box from the old Boston Garden at the New England Sports Museum. The box is on loan from former Bruin Terry O'Reilly, and fans can have their picture taken while sitting in it.

• A scholarship will soon be established to honor the memory of the late Nicholas Martinho of North Reading. Martinho was a 1961 graduate of North Reading High School who loved all sports and played semi-professional football in Lowell. Memorial contributions may be made to the North Reading High School Scholarship Fund, attention Athletic Director Roy Condon, Park Street, North Reading, 01864. The contributions will be used to establish the Nicholas Martinho Athletic Scholarship Award. (The preceding information was taken from the North Reading Transcript.)

• North Reading's BILL KEL-LEHER, an assistant captain on the Dartmouth College men's ice hockey team, has a chance to become the school's 27th player to attain 100 career points. He recently scored the go-ahead goal in a 5-2 win over Merrimack College.

• ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S TRIVIA QUESTION: He scored 40 points, which accounted for all his team's points in its 40-6 Thanksgiving Day victory over the Chicago Bears. That day he managed to score six touchdowns and kicked four extra points to set the record. Congratulations to those that answered the question correctly, and look for this space next week to find another sports-related trivia question.

• ANSWER TO BONUS SPORTS TRIVIA QUESTION: The Patriots defeated the Cincinnati Bengals 34-23 on the last day of the 1985 season to clinch a playoff spot. Congratulations to those that answered the question correctly.

• DO YOU KNOW SOMETHING WE DON'T? If you have information about a local athlete that you would like to see appear in this column, please mail it to: Paul Feely, Middlesex East Sports, P.O. Box 240, Reading, MA., 01867, or call Paul at 617-944-2200 between 7 am and 3:30 pm, Monday through Friday. Items can also be faxed at 617-942-0884.

Why do start-up businesses fail?

Even in times of great prosperity the number of start up companies that succeed is amazingly small. There are a myriad of reasons for this high degree of lack of success. But when all is said and done the most common cause is lack of proper planning.

Starting a new business without having a well prepared business plan is like entering a mine field without having a map which shows where the mines are placed. At any moment the whole thing can blow up in your face. And it usually does.

At SCORE veteran retired business people know all too well how important it is to have a well thought out plan in place before investing hard earned money and untold hours of hard work into a new venture. Counselors are ready, willing and most certainly able to assist a budding entrepreneur in developing a well thought out business plan. The careful articulation of a new company's prime objectives, its marketing strategies, organizational structure and detailed set of financial projections are all part of the job our counselors participate in developing with those clients that plan for success. And the service is free.

This SBA sponsored program has helped create financial independence of thousands of young entrepreneurs with their start up companies nationwide.

SCORE has two workshops which offer a preliminary guide for the inexperienced entrepreneur. These one day courses which combine a series of lectures by key professionals is combined with group roundtable discussions. Attendees learn about the essential elements they must concern themselves with in developing their new business ventures. This is an excellent beginning point prior to involving themselves with one-on-one counseling sessions.
